Connect

Listen and Discuss

Read the texts and underline the words or phrases that provide facts and/or opinions.

What do you think?

Collaborative learning promotes teamwork in class. Learners work together in small or large teams. However, it is not always easy for individuals to work effectively with others. Some learners prefer to work on their own first, then share ideas and information. Others are reluctant to share, because they want to impress the teacher with their performance. Negative competition in class tends to prevent students from working together, as they feel that they need to keep what they know to themselves, in order to gain credit against everyone else in class.

Who are they? How do you feel about them?

What do people mean when they say that someone is "self-made"? They usually refer to success stories of individuals who have been able to recognize and utilize opportunities in their lives, for the purposes of improving their personal living standards, gaining respect in their community, and helping others. Can you think of successful "self-made" people in your country? Who are they? How do you feel about them?

Would you take a course on future studies?

Have you heard of the terms 'future studies' or 'strategic foresight'? Future Studies is an interdisciplinary field that studies and analyzes current and past changes with respect to tomorrow. For example, many people believe that the Earth's ecosystem will collapse in the near future, while others believe that it will survive. A foresight approach would analyze and highlight the assumptions underpinning such views. Would you choose to take a course on future studies at university?

Would you buy it?

Infomercials are longer television commercials that include demonstrations of product features and customer comments. A toll-free telephone number and/or website is included for potential buyers accompanied by "an offer you can't refuse".

2 Pair Work

- A. Before you discuss each issue, brainstorm and think of:
  - phrases you can use to express your opinion/view
  - ways to agree and disagree
  - arguments to support your view

Which topic would you like to know more about? Why? Which topic do you find least interesting? Why?

3 Conversation Q

Listen and practice reading the conversation in pairs. Then act it out.

Adnan and Yahya are high school students. They are walking along the corridor, chatting during break.

Adnan: You've heard, haven't you? Our chemistry teacher has been transferred.

It can't be true. I saw him yesterday. He can't have left. I thought he must still be teaching in our Yahya:

school.

Yes, so did I. But apparently, he has been transferred to his hometown. So someone else is going Adnan:

to be teaching chemistry.

Yahya: I am sorry to hear that.

Adnan: I saw someone new walking into the chemistry lab. He must be our new teacher...

Let's have a look. No, it can't be. I don't believe it. He must be looking for me. Yahya:

What are you talking about? That must be our new teacher. Adnan:

Yahya: No, it can't be.

Oh, come on. Why not? Adnan:

Yahya: Because that's my uncle! He must have known about this but never told me.

Adnan: He must have wanted to surprise you! It's good news, isn't it?

Your Turn

A. Role-play a conversation like the one above with a partner. Use phrases from the box.

Has it happened to you or someone you know?

About a week ago I went to check my bank account for the umpteenth time, hoping that I'd find some cash. I placed my card in the machine, keyed in my password and to my great delight; there was the money in my account. So I pressed withdrawal, took my card out of the machine, as I was supposed to, and happily walked away...

I must have taken about ten steps or so, when I thought of checking to make sure that I'd put the money away securely. I searched my small bag and my pockets to no avail. I immediately turned and rushed back to the ATM. As I had feared, there was no cash in the slot.

I then checked my account to only get a confirmation that the amount I had requested had in fact been withdrawn. I was really upset and embarrassed. I called the bank and reported the incident. They promised to check the following day.

Fortunately, the machine had a security feature which pulled back cash that was not collected within fifteen or twenty seconds!

I was feeling really foolish to have done such a thing but then I was told that it happens all the time! Would you believe it?

- 2. Work in pairs. Think about an incident you heard or read about or something that happened to you or someone you know. Make notes.
- 3. It might help to write the actions/verbs in the order they happened and then add people, objects and places. Lastly, don't forget to also convey the manner in which things happened. Use your voice, exclamations, adjectives and adverbs.
- •4. Now use your notes and tell your partner or your class.

Listen and Discuss

- 1. Name some famous duos, or pairs, who have left their mark in history (for example, a husband and wife team or a pair of siblings). Tell the most legendary story you know of a famous pair.
- 2. Read the texts about some famous family members from history. Do you think their close relationship made it easier for them to achieve certain goals?

Marie and Pierre Curie (1894–1906)

Maria Sklodowska was born in Warsaw in 1867. She was the daughter of a secondary-school teacher. She studied in local schools and received some training in science from her father. Because women were not allowed to attend university in Poland in the 19th century, Maria left Poland to study at a French university in 1891. Now known by the French name Marie, she worked hard in a laboratory that was owned by Pierre Pierre Curie was born in Paris in 1859. He received his early education at home and then joined the Faculty of Sciences at the Sorbonne. He was promoted to professor in 1900.

Marie and Pierre Curie got married in 1895. Although poor, they were devoted to each other and their research. Their studies of radioactive substances were carried out under difficult conditions. Their laboratory facilities were hardly adequate and they had to do a lot of teaching to earn a living.

In 1898, the couple discovered the elements polonium and radium. They eventually won the Nobel Prize for Physics in 1903 for the discovery of radioactivity. When Pierre died in 1906, Marie honored his memory by continuing their work. In 1911, Marie Curie won another Nobel Prize, this time for chemistry. She was the first person to win the Nobel Prize twice.

The Wright Brothers

The Wright brothers, Orville (1871–1948) and Wilbur (1867–1912), were inventors and aviation pioneers who built and flew the first successful airplane. They were not the first to build and fly experimental aircraft, but they were the first to invent airplane controls that made powered flight possible.

The Wright brothers differed from other inventors of the time because their focus wasn't on creating more powerful engines. What they did focus on was developing a reliable pilot control system. Their homemade wind tunnel provided the data the brothers needed in order to design and build the most efficient wings and propellers that had ever been made. They gained valuable experience and mechanical skills by working with bicycles, motors, and other machinery in their shop for years. They developed their skills as pilots through extensive glider tests, from 1900 to 1903, until their first powered flight.

Competing researchers and entrepreneurs challenged the Wright brothers' abilities and skills as inventors. The Wright brothers' work has had a lasting impact on aviation and aerodynamics.

3 Grammar

Other, Others, and Another Other/Others

Other can be used as an adjective before a plural noun to mean "additional" or "further." Many scientists feel that global warming can be reversed. Other scientists disagree.

Others can be used as a pronoun to mean additional or other persons or things. Many scientists feel that global warming can be reversed. Others disagree.

Another

Another can be used as an adjective or a pronoun.

As an adjective, it means an alternative to something previously considered.

I know you want to go to Mexico on vacation, but I have another idea.

As a pronoun, it means an additional one of the same kind.

That was a good cup of coffee. I think I'll have another.

Whether used as an adjective or a pronoun, another is only used with singular nouns.

Incorrect: I think I'll have another beef burgers.

Note: Don't confuse other, others, and another with the pronouns each other and one another. Note that each other and one another, which are inseparable phrases, are used to express a mutual relationship.

My friends have deep trust in each other. I know that none of them could let down the others.

Emphatic Do

Do is usually used as an auxiliary in negative and question forms of the simple present and past tense. However, the auxiliary do can also be used before the infinitive in affirmative sentences to add special emphasis.

I do enjoy his company.

He does like to talk.

We can also use emphatic do to show a contrast between expectations and reality.

A: You didn't call me yesterday. B: I did call you yesterday.

We usually get along very well, but we do have arguments occasionally.

Note: Emphatic do is strongly emphasized in speech.

I'm really excited that we're going to share Badr:

an apartment to save money while we study in New York.

Adnan: I am, too. But, you know, a lot of friends end up arguing about chores. So, I was thinking it might be a good idea for us to divide up the chores before we move in.

Yeah. I do think we should discuss that. Badr:

I'm sure we can work out a fair division of chores.

Adnan: Of course, we'll each clean our own room.

And since there are two bathrooms, how about if I clean one and you clean the other?

That's fair. And each week we can take turns Badr:

cleaning the rest of the apartment.

Adnan: Hey, do you want to do our laundry together so that only one of us has to go to the laundromat each week?

We're on the same wavelength. I was just going to suggest that. Badr:

Adnan: I really don't like folding the wash. If I wash the laundry, would you be willing to do the folding?

No sweat. And how about cooking? I don't mind cleaning, but Badr:

cooking is really not my cup of tea. Would you do the cooking if I did the cleaning up?

Adnan: Sorry, but if there's one chore I hate, it's cooking.

Well, it looks like we're going to be eating a lot of takeout! Badr:

About the Conversation

- 1. What problem are Badr and Adnan trying to avoid?
- 2. How do Badr and Adnan divide up the chores?
- 3. What chore does neither of them want to do? What solution does Badr offer?

Your Turn

Role-play with a partner. Pretend that you are dividing up responsibilities for something you are doing together, such as working on a school project. Figure out a list of tasks, and then discuss who will be responsible for each task. Use the phrases for negotiating.

on the same wavelength = thinking the same thing No sweat. = No problem.

not my cup of tea = a polite way to say you don't like something

Negotiating

How about if I...and you...? I think it would be fair if... I'm sure we can work this out. OK, I'll agree to...if you will... Would you (be willing to)...if I ...?

8 Reading

Before Reading

Do you think animals ever form partnerships to help one another? Explain.

For animals in the wild, each day is a struggle to survive. They must continually search for food, while at the same time keeping themselves safe from predators. Some animals have learned that teaming up with another animal makes the struggle to find food, shelter, and safety a bit easier. This kind of special relationship in which animals depend upon and benefit from one another is called symbiosis.

One of the most visually surprising examples of symbiosis occurs between the fearsome African crocodile and the small plover bird. When a plover is nearby, a crocodile will open its long, sharp-toothed jaws to invite it inside. You might assume that the plover would quickly reject this invitation and fly off. Yet surprisingly, the plover does hop inside. Perhaps even more amazingly, the crocodile, normally known for its aggression, does not snap its mouth shut and have the plover for a snack. Instead, it remains still, not closing its mouth until the plover leaves. How can this strange behavior be explained? The answer is symbiosis. The plover picks out all the small pieces of meat stuck between the crocodile's teeth. In doing so, it cleans the crocodile's teeth, which prevents it from getting infections. Because the crocodile can not clean its own teeth, it depends on the plover to perform this service. In return, the crocodile provides an easy meal for the plover.

In some cases of symbiosis, like the crocodile and the plover, each animal in the pair benefits from their relationship in a different way. However, in other cases, the animals share a common goal. This is true of the honeyguide bird and the ratel, a furry creature with short legs and long claws. Both these animals live on grasslands in Africa and have an appetite for honey. As its name suggests, the honeyguide has a special ability for locating beehives. However, this small bird cannot open a beehive to get at the honey. To accomplish this, it teams up with the ratel. Ratels are a perfect match for the honeyguide as they love honey, are large enough to crack open a hive, but have no ability to find hives themselves. The honeyguide flies over grasslands looking for a hive. When it does spot a hive, it swoops down and makes a noise to alert the ratel. The ratel uses its claws to tear open the hive. After eating its fill, the ratel invites the honeyguide to finish the leftovers.

Another two animals that team up to compensate for their own weaknesses are the zebra and the ostrich. These two animals often travel together. This is no surprise since they are a perfect match. While the giant, flightless ostrich has poor senses of both smell and hearing, the zebra has acute senses of smell and hearing. On the other hand, the zebra has terrible eyesight, while the ostrich has excellent eyesight, enhanced by its long neck which enables the ostrich to see far into the distance. In this way, each makes up for the other's deficiencies. As a result, the animals are far safer together than they would be apart. Ostriches can see predators, such as lions, far in the distance, while zebras can smell or hear others as they approach.

Birds and land animals aren't the only ones that work in symbiotic pairs. Some sea animals, like the clownfish and the sea anemone, do as well. Sea anemones, which look like plants, are actually dangerous animals with poisonous tentacles. Most fish stay away from anemones to avoid being stung. However, the clownfish makes its home among the sea anemones. It does not get stung, because its body is protected by a special coating. Living among the deadly tentacles of an anemone has a clear advantage-most predators stay away! Another benefit for the clownfish is that it is able to eat the anemone's leftover bits of food. But what is the advantage to the anemone? There are several. First, the brightly colored clownfish attracts predators. When the clownfish swims under the anemone's tentacles to safety, if the predator follows, the anemone has the chance to sting and eat it. Other services the clownfish performs are cleaning up food scraps and dead anemone tentacles, and chasing away fish that might eat the anemone.

While many symbiotic pairs may at first look like odd partners, the benefits they provide one another are invaluable, and may make the difference between life and death. In fact, it is often these animals' very differences that make them perfect partners.

After Reading

Answer the questions.

- 1. Explain the meaning of symbiosis.
- 2. In what way do the African crocodile and the plover have a symbiotic relationship?
- Give an example of a case of symbiosis in which each animal has the same goal.
- 4. Name two animals that make up for each other's deficiencies. How do they do this?
- 5. What benefits do the clownfish and anemone offer each other?

Speaking

- 1. Work in pairs/groups. Think about your relationship with a good friend. What can you offer each other?
- 2. Complete the chart with your notes and use them to discuss in class.

What can you offer your friend?	How does it help your friend?	What can your friend offer you?	How does it help you?

10 Writing

- A. 1. Do you think it is necessary for people to share the same characteristics in order to get along well with each other? Why? Why not?
  - 2. Read the text and find out.
    - Who are the people involved?
    - What kind of people are they? Underline words that provide information about each one.
    - In your view, what are the characteristics that they share?
    - · What do you think might have happened if they both shared exactly the same characteristics and attitude to life?
      - a. if they were both like the grandfather
      - b. if they were both like the grandmother
    - Why did the writer choose to describe the particular incident? What do you think it portrays?

There is a I memory that always makes me smile with contentment and admiration, and that is the memory of my maternal grandparents.

My grandfather was a dedicated lawyer whose moral fiber prevented him from taking advantage of circumstances to make a profit! He was highly respected in courts and had the reputation of being the most honest law specialist. He was genuinely interested in people, history, law, and philosophy and was always reading when he was at home. He was the calmest, most serene person I have ever met. He never raised his voice, never lost his temper, and had a special ability to always rationalize things ever so smoothly that the worst calamity seemed like a slight twitch. Nothing could make him lose his sense and aura of peace.

Grandmother, on the other hand, was the exact opposite. She used to get all worked up about things and flustered over minor irregularities. She had to have everything planned just so and still worried about things that could go wrong. She wanted everything to be perfect, sometimes to an extreme. Once, when she had gotten into her cleanliness frenzy, she called someone in and got rid of genuine antique furniture that grandfather had painstakingly collected over a number of years and arranged in this perfect replica of a drawing room. There were fine, elegant chairs with brocade upholstery on the seats and beautiful tables, not to mention some exquisite mirrors. Grandmother had gotten it into her head that it was all useless because it collected too much dust and decided to sell it off to the first bidder for next to nothing.

When grandfather came home, he opened the door to the little drawing room to admire his creation and found an empty shell. He asked grandmother where everything was, and she very naturally informed him that she'd gotten rid of it because it was a dust magnet. All he did was chuckle, and then sat down at the table to have his lunch!

This incident pretty much rounds up the amazing symbiosis between these two wonderful people. In spite of their different characteristics, they obviously complemented each other in a way that only they could fully appreciate!

- Read the text again and find out.
  - What is the topic of each paragraph? (What or who is the paragraph about?)
  - · Are all paragraphs about the same length? Why? Why not?
  - · What words/phrases describe the qualities of each person? Can you think of more?
  - Which qualities are demonstrated through the incident?

- Using a Venn diagram, write the qualities you feel each person has. In the overlapping portion of the diagram, write the qualities/characteristics that they share.
- 3. Write a short essay about the two friends, explaining how they complement each other.

Rosa and Sue: A Perfect Friendship
My sister Rosa and her best friend Sue have been friends since elementary school. They always seem to be together, and others joke that they are twins. However, their personalities are quite different...

Writing Corner

When you write a descriptive essay about people's qualities/characteristics:

- think about their positive and negative qualities, their needs and the things they offer, their attitude to life, typical incidents, etc.
- express your personal feelings/views about the people.
- do not simply write a list of adjectives.
- vary the way you express thoughts, memories, and feelings; use expressions like these:
   I think he/she is..., I have always felt that..., I regard him/her as..., He/She seems to..., He/She tends to..., Anytime I think of..., I have never..., He/She is the most (adjective) person I have ever known/met, etc.
- use linking devices that indicate similarity and contrast, cause and effect, consequence, reason, etc.; use a variety of expressions and words like these: due to this..., although..., in spite of..., while..., compared to..., because of..., as a result, both, etc.
- plan your essay carefully by deciding what/who you are going to focus on in different sections/ paragraphs.
- write a first draft, then read it and make corrections or write questions about things you are not sure about.
- hand over the draft to someone else to read and edit; encourage him/her to write comments and questions.
- read the comments and edit your essay.

11 Form, Meaning and Function 🞑

Simple Present Tense

Use the simple present tense for facts and things that are true in general.

For animals in the wild, each day is a struggle to survive.

Use the simple present tense to talk about future timetables or schedules.

My flight from Dubai to Bahrain leaves at 8:10 A.M. tomorrow. I then fly to Saudi Arabia and arrive in Riyadh at eleven o'clock.

Use the present simple with exclamations with Here...! and There...! :

Q: Can I have the check, please?

Q: Dad, can I borrow your cell phone, please?

Q: Where are my glasses?

Q: Where is Nathalie?

A: Of course, Sir. Here you are!

A: I suppose so. Here you go!

A: Ah! There they are!

A: Here she comes!

Simple Present versus Present Progressive

Use the simple present tense to talk about habits and routine, and use the present progressive for actions occurring now or for a temporary situation.

Badr usually eats takeout, but today he is cooking dinner.

Use the present progressive for changing or developing situations.

More and more students are sharing apartments to save money while they study.

Use the present progressive with always, continually, constantly to describe an ongoing annoying situation or habit. He is always asking his brother to lend him money.

Note: Some verbs are not often used in the progressive form: believe, think (opinion), know, remember, like, hate, want, prefer, see, hear, feel, seem, appear, have, belong, own.

A. Read the telephone conversation between Badr and his brother, Fahad. Complete the conversation with the correct form of the word in the parentheses. Use the simple present or present progressive.

Fahad: Hi Badr. How are (1. be) things in New York?

B. Complete the conversation with your own ideas Compare with a partner.

Words Connected with Museums and Galleries

Some words we commonly associate with different types of museums and galleries are:

Archaeological	Technological	National
history culture antiques pottery jewelry exhibitions ruins	space robots science seminars 3-D digital cinema showing scientific documentaries educational books	antiques manuscripts documents state-of-the-art informative exhibits interactive displays

Expressing Enthusiasm with Intensifiers and Adjectives

We use the intensifiers really, very, absolutely and quite with adjectives to express our enthusiasm with something.

There are two kinds of adjectives: gradable and non-gradable. Gradable adjectives can be measured in degrees, such as size, age, quality etc. Non-gradable adjectives cannot be measured like this.

We use certain intensifiers with each group of adjectives.

very really extremely	Gradable Adjectives expensive old beautiful important good interesting frightening small big	absolutely really quite	Non-Gradable Adjectives priceless ancient stunning crucial amazing fascinating terrifying tiny massive
-----------------------------	--	-------------------------------	--

Note: The intensifier really can be used with both gradable and non-gradable adjectives.

C. Look at the information about the National Museum of Saudi Arabia. Write sentences using the prompts. Use the present simple tense.

 Find out how members or teams in your country share a symbiotic relationship and depend on each other to reach a shared goal.

- Note that some people offer a service and have clients pay for that service. For example, a store owner

2 Influential People

Listen and Discuss

- 1. Talk about a person who went from not having much money to being wealthy and influential.
- 2. What qualities do you think a person needs to excel in life and be successful?

AMANCIO ORTEGA

Country of Citizenship: Spain Industry: Retail Clothing

Amancio Ortega is the founder and chairman of a company that owns many stores, including the enormously popular international clothing store, Zara. Now Spain's richest man, Ortega is the son of a railroad worker, and had no formal higher education. When Ortega was 13, he worked as a delivery boy for a shirtmaker and later became the manager of a clothing store. He began making clothing in his living room and selling it to local stores. Ortega had an ability to predict what styles were going to be popular and to create these styles with inexpensive materials. In 1975, Ortega opened his first Zara store. Zara gained a reputation for selling designer fashions at reasonable prices. Today Ortega's company has more than 2,850 stores in 88 countries.

MOHAMMAD ABDUL LATIF JAMEEL

Industry: Business

Country of Citizenship: Saudi Arabia

A great philanthropist and prominent businessman, Mohammad Abdul Latif Jameel, president of ALJ, runs one of the world's largest car dealerships, with operations in the Middle East, U.K., Central Asia and China. A leading figure in corporate social responsibility, he has created a series of initiatives against poverty and has contributed greatly to the government's Saudization program in the Kingdom, by promoting thousands of jobs every year through the ALJ Community Services Programs. Abdul Latif Jameel is an MIT alumnus, member of the board of trustees, and dedicated supporter of the Abdul Latif Jameel Poverty Action Lab (J-PAL). He was named "Saudi Volunteer of the Year" in 2012, in recognition of the services offered by ALJCI in Saudi Arabia and the rest of the Arab world.

LI KA-SHING

Ministru20 Education

Country of Citizenship: China

Li was born into an impoverished family in China in 1928. When he was 15, his father died, forcing Li to leave high school so that he could work to support his family. He took a job in a plastics company, where he would work 16 hours a day. At this company, Li used to assemble plastic flowers. By 1950, Li had started his own plastics manufacturing company. His company prospered, which led Li to expand his business into many different fields.

However, his successes are not all monetary. Li Ka-shing has a reputation for being honest and generous. In fact, he is one of Asia's most prominent philanthropists, and has announced plans to donate one-third of his wealth to charity.

STEVEN PAUL JOBS (1955-2011)

Industry: Computer Design Country of Citizenship: U.S.

Steven Paul Jobs was born in 1955 and adopted into a working class family. He grew up in what later became Silicon Valley. He dropped out of college because he could not afford to pay his tuition. In the late 70s, he co-founded Apple with Steve Wozniak and others, and proceeded to develop and market the first successful lines of personal computers. He eventually resigned from Apple over an argument with the board of directors in 1984, and founded NeXT. Apple's buyout of NeXT, in 1997, brought Jobs back to Apple as its CEO. He was the largest individual shareholder of The Walt Disney Company and a member of the board. Jobs was admired by many for his entrepreneurial skills, his foresight, and his ability to create and support products that were both functional and aesthetically pleasing.

3 Grammar

وزارة التعـ

Ministry Education 2025 - 1447

Used To versus Be Used To

Used to + the base form of a verb is used to talk about an activity that was repeated habitually in the past, but which is not done now.

He used to live in a mansion. But he lost all his money and now he lives in a small apartment. She didn't use to care about money. But now she's become very materialistic.

Note: For the negative, use didn't use to (omit the -d).

Be used to + gerund or noun is used to talk about something that has become familiar or habitual.

Some people think it's crazy that he works seven days a week. But he is used to it. Although she is a millionaire now, she isn't used to shopping in expensive stores.

Note: For the negative, use be + not + use d to (do not omit the -d).

Would for Repeated Action in the Past versus Used To

Would can be used to talk about an action that happened regularly in the past. Used this way, would means the same thing as used to.

When I was a child, I would dream of being a millionaire. = When I was a child, I used to dream of being a millionaire.

Note: Only used to (not would) can be used to talk about a situation that was true (without habitual action) in the past.

He used to live at home until he got a job. (Correct)

He would live at home until he got a job. (Incorrect)

Was/Were Going To (Future in the Past)

Was/Were + going to + the base form of a verb is used to talk about a prediction for the future made in the past, or a past plan that was not carried out.

I knew that company was going to be a great success.

He was going to spend the money, but he decided to invest it in the stock market instead.

Ahmed: My parents gave me ⅓ 30,000 for graduation.

Ibrahim: Wow! What are you going to do with all that cash?

Ahmed: I don't know. I'm going around in circles about it, driving myself and everyone else crazy. At first I was going to do something really indulgent with it, like take a vacation. I was ready to book it, but then I got cold feet.

Ibrahim: Why? I think a vacation sounds like a great idea. You've worked really hard for four years. You deserve a break.

Ahmed: That's true. But, on the other hand, I don't want to spend all that money on something that will be over in a week. So, then I was thinking of buying something useful, like a used car.

Ibrahim: That's a good idea.

Ahmed: Yeah. It would be a great convenience to have a car. But, at the same time, I'm used to taking public transportation, and I really don't mind it. Frankly, I can't think of anything that I really need. So maybe I should put the money aside for a rainy day.

Ibrahim: Well, yes, I suppose the alternative would be to just put it in the bank until you need it.

Ahmed: Right. But then again, what's the point of having money if you're not enjoying it? Maybe I should do something indulgent with it-like take that vacation.

Ibrahim: Now I see how you're driving everyone crazy!

Real Talk

cash = money

go (around) in circles = to think through many possibilities over and over without coming to a decision drive someone crazy = greatly annoy or irritate get cold feet = to decide not to do something because you are too scared or nervous don't mind = not annoyed or bothered by

8 Reading

Before Reading

What do you know about Sheik Sulaiman Al-Rajhi? What do you think matters to him most?

Sheikh Sulaiman bin Abdul-Aziz Al-Rajhi

Sheikh Sulaiman bin Abdul-Aziz Al-Rajhi, the world-renowned philanthropist and winner of the 2012 King Faisal International Prize for Service to Islam, has not always been a billionaire.

Born in 1929, he spent his youth in Al-Qassim where he and his brother Saleh began their business, changing money for pilgrims, on their way to the cities of Makkah and Madinah.

Their business expanded in the 1970s during the oil boom in Saudi Arabia. The Al-Rajhi brothers helped migrant workers from Indonesia, Pakistan and other places to send their earnings home. They were granted permission to establish a bank, the Al Rajhi Bank, which complied with religious tenets such as a ban on interest.

Founding the bank, which is now the world's biggest Islamic lender, was not hurdle-free. Sulaiman Al-Rajhi began by opening an office in Britain, to introduce the Islamic banking system on a more international basis. However, his initial attempts to secure a banking license were unsuccessful, as British officials were not aware of the principles and requirements of Islamic banking. He had to travel to different countries in order to explain to bankers that interest was forbidden by Islam and regarded as unacceptable by pious people all over the world. He pointed out that interest caused a lot of people to avoid transactions with banks and to keep their cash and valuables at home. Eventually, the banking system he proposed was launched in Saudi Arabia and subsequently implemented in the United Kingdom.

Sheikh Sulaiman bin Abdul-Aziz Al-Rajhi is also chairman of the National Agricultural Development Company and founder of the Al-Watania agricultural projects, which include the largest poultry farm in the Middle East and one of the most successful companies in Saudi Arabia. Al Rajhi had visited a poultry farm abroad and had been shocked by the improper way chickens were fed and slaughtered. This prompted him to launch the poultry farm project, making sure that chickens were naturally fed and halal slaughtered according to Islamic tenets. He has also introduced and supported organic farming throughout the Middle East, intent on securing healthy food for all as a means of fostering good health, preventing illness and consequently reducing the cost of medical treatment. The Al-Rajhi projects diversified into other areas, as well, such as real estate and other investment projects.

In 2009, Sulaiman Al-Rajhi established the Sulaiman Al-Rajhi University, a non-profit research university with three departments; Medicine, Nursing, and Applied Science. In fact, the university was established by the Awgaf Sulaiman Al Rajhi Holding Company (ASARHC), which is considered the largest foundation of its kind in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, in terms of capital as well as range and volume of activities. ASARHC now owns and controls more than half of Sulaiman Al-Rajhi's wealth. The foundation organizes and oversees a substantial number of charities and humanitarian activities worldwide.

In May 2011, Sulaiman Al-Rajhi announced that he was donating most of his $7.7 billion fortune to charity. During his lifetime, Al-Rajhi distributed the rest of his wealth to his children in order to avoid potential disputes over inheritance, that could destroy kinship and harmony among them.

Sulaiman Al-Rajhi was awarded the highly prestigious King Faisal International Prize for Service to Islam, in 2012, in recognition of his outstanding service to Islam, his role in the establishment of the world's largest Islamic bank and his ongoing contribution to charities, and humanitarian projects' fight against poverty.

Having experienced extreme poverty earlier in life, Al-Rajhi chose to donate and distribute all his assets, to gain peace of mind and inner happiness.

In December 2019, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia assumed the 2020 presidency of the Group of Twenty (G20), an international forum for economic cooperation attended by the largest and some of the

the fastest growing economies in the world. Founded in 1999, the G20 brings together leaders from 19 countries and the European Union to discuss the world's most challenging problems.

Majed Ahmed Abdullah

Majed Ahmed Abdullah is a Saudi Arabian former footballer who was born in Jeddah but moved to Riyadh with his family when he was very young. He is one of the best football strikers in the history of Saudi Arabia, having scored 72 goals in 117 games with the Saudi Arabian national football team. He scored 4 goals against India, during the 1984 Summer Olympics. Majed Ahmed Abdullah was the all-time top scorer of the Saudi Professional League. Many newspapers have written articles about his accomplishments!

Writing Corner

When you write a descriptive essay about a person's life:

- distinguish the main life events from surrounding information.
- select key events that provide a complete picture of how someone's life developed from the time they were born.
- list the events in chronological order, then switch them around if you wish, e.g. Having completed his studies, he proceeded to apply for any position that was advertised in his area of specialty.
- use connectors to show the order of events such as: when; then; after; while.
- be as descriptive as possible. Describe the person's character, qualities and actions. Choose key events based on these qualities so that the reader has a clear picture of the person's character as well as the person's life story.

Form, Meaning and Function

Present Perfect Simple Tense

Use the present perfect to talk about actions that started at an indefinite time in the past. It is often used to talk about time from the past to now in a person's life.

Q: Have you been to Kuwait?

A: Yes, I've been to Kuwait. I have visited many places in the Middle East.

Use the present perfect to talk about recently completed actions.

Mohammad Abdul Latif Jameel has contributed greatly to the government's Saudization program in the Kingdom.

Use the present perfect simple to emphasis an action that started in the past and has continued until now and may continue in the future.

Li Ka-shing has lived in China for all his life.

Use the present perfect simple tense with for to indicate the duration of the action: for two months, for a year, for a long time.

Use the present perfect simple with since to indicate when the action began: since yesterday, since last June.

Questions with How Long

Q: How long has the clothing store been in operation?

A: It's been in operation since 1975. It's been in operation for about 50 years.

A.	Complete the sentences with for or since.
	1. Hameed has had the same TV 15 years.	5. We haven't used our car a long time.
	2. I've had my laptop last June.	6. I've been drinking tea years.
	3. We've worked on this project a month.	7. Tariq has worn glasses the age of seven.
7	4. My friends haven't visited me my graduation.	8 when have you had that beautiful watch?

Past Simple versus Present Perfect

Use the present perfect to talk about an action that happened in the past when the exact time isn't known or isn't important. Use the simple past tense when the exact time is given.

Present Perfect

Simple Past

A: Have you ever met a billionaire?

A: When did he start the company?

B: No, I've never met a billionaire.

B: He started the company in the late 70s.

Note: Time expressions we can use with the present perfect are: yet, so far, ever, never, already, recently, lately, once, twice, etc.

Asking and Telling about Personal Experiences: Have you ever ...?

Have you ever ordered books online

Yes. So far this year. I've ordered 25 books online. No. I've never ordered books online, but I've bought other products through the Internet. I haven't bought books online yet. I buy them from the bookstore on the corner.

3 What Will They Think of Next?

Listen and Discuss

- 1. What things that we take for granted today did people not have 100 years ago?
- 2. Name a discovery or development that you think people will have (or use) 100 years from now.

In 1900, a popular American magazine, called Ladies' Home Journal, published an article called "What May Happen in the Next Hundred Years," making predictions about what life would be like in the year 2001. Read and discuss the predictions.

People

People will be taller by one to two inches. This increase in height will be a result of better health. due to improvements in medicine, sanitation, and diet. The average life expectancy will have risen from the current age of 35 to the age of 50.

Language

There will be no C, X, or Q in the English alphabet as these letters will have been determined to be unnecessary. Spelling by sound will have been adopted. English will have become a language of condensed words. English will also be more extensively spoken than any other language. Russian will rank second.

Transportation

Cars will be cheaper than horses are today. Automobiles will have been substituted for every horse vehicle now known. A onepound motor in one of these vehicles will do the work of a pair of horses or more.

There will be air-ships, but they will not successfully compete with cars and ships for passenger or freight traffic. They will be used mainly by the military.

Traffic

There will be no traffic on the streets of large cities. All traffic, including subways, cars, and buses will be either below ground or high above ground. "Moving-sidewalk" stairways will connect them to the street level. The vehicles on the busy underground and overhead streets will have cushioned wheels. Therefore, there will be almost no noise in cities.

Media

Photographs will be telegraphed from any distance. If there is an important event happening halfway around the world, photographs of the event will be published in newspapers an hour later.

Deliveries

When people make purchases from stores, their purchases will be delivered by tubes, connected from the store to houses. These tubes will also collect, deliver, and transport mail over distances, perhaps for hundreds of miles.

Communication

Wireless telephone circuits will span the world. A person in New York will easily be able to call someone in China.

Quick Check 🗹

- B. Comprehension. Answer the questions.
  - 1. What was the average life expectancy in 1900?
  - 2. What predictions did the author make about the English language? Have they come true?
  - 3. What do you think the author was referring to when he used the term air-ships?
  - 4. Choose a prediction and give an example of how it has come true.
  - 5. Which prediction do you think is the least likely to ever come true? Why?

3 What Will They Think of Next?

Future Perfect

The future perfect is used to express the idea that an action will be completed in the future, before another event or before another specific time in the future. The future perfect is formed with will have + past participle.

By the time my children are grown, scientists will have found a solution to global warming.

The car company will have introduced their new models by November.

Future Perfect Progressive

The future perfect progressive is used to focus on the duration of an action that will be happening in the future before another time or event happens in the future. The future perfect progressive is formed with will have + been + present participle.

By the year 2033, people will have been flying for 130 years.

Note: Sometimes either the future perfect or the future perfect progressive can be used to express the same idea.

By 2030, I will have been living in Sao Paulo for 15 years.

By 2030, I will have lived in Sao Paulo for 15 years.

The Future with Dependent Time Clauses

We can talk about a future event using a time clause with when, before, after, while, until, and as soon as. A present tense verb form (not a future form) is used in the time clause, and will or be going to are used in the main clause.

My father will keep using his old-fashioned cord phone until it breaks.

When he finishes working on his invention, he's going to let me try it out.

- A. Use the future perfect to combine the future events into one sentence, using by or by the time.
- 1st Event: I will take all my final exams. 2nd Event: The end of June will come. By the end of June, I will have taken all my final exams.
  - 1. 1st Event: It will start to rain.
    - 2nd Event: We will arrive at the picnic.
  - 1st Event: I will fall asleep.
    - 2nd Event: This film will be over.
  - 1st Event: I will get married and have children.
    - 2nd Event: 2035 will come.
  - 4. 1st Event: My father will work at his company for 20 years.
    - 2nd Event: He will retire.
  - 5. 1st Event: He will decide which college to attend.
    - 2nd Event: February will come.
  - 1st Event: The food will get cold.
    - 2nd Event: You will come to the table.
  - 1st Event: He will learn to drive.
    - 2nd Event: He will graduate.

- B. Use the future perfect or the future perfect progressive to complete each sentence. In some cases, both forms are possible.
- Sheri started teaching biology in 2019.
  By 2029, she will have been teaching biology for ten years.
  - 1. Fadi and Amina got married in 2000. By 2034, _____
  - 2. My brother became a vegetarian three weeks ago. By next week, ______
  - 3. Jasim started his new job in February. By November, _____
  - 4. You started studying at 4:00. By 8:00, _______
  - 5. I've already lost five kilograms on my diet. If I lose another two, _______.
  - 6. I moved to Singapore in 2018. By 2032, ________
  - 7. We started waiting 20 minutes ago. If she gets here in 10 minutes, _______.
  - 8. This TV show started two-and-a-half hours ago! In another half hour, _______
- C. Put the verbs in parentheses in either the future tense (will or be going to) or the present tense.
- ? I 'll call (call) you as soon as I get (get) home.
  - 1. The company _____ (manufacture) the parts when they _____ (receive) the order.
  - 2. After I _____ (make) a million dollars, I _____ (buy) my parents a house.
  - 3. I ______ (travel) the world, before I _____ (get) married and settle down.
  - 4. He _____ (run) to the store, before it _____ (start) raining.

8 Reading

Before Reading

If you could go into space, would you? Why or why not?

AN OUT-OF-THIS-WORLD VACATION

Things that once seemed impossible often become commonplace with the passing of time. There are people predicting that this will happen with space tourism in the next decade or two. Some are even investing in and developing space tourism technology, believing that space tourism will be the next big thing. They imagine a future in which space travel will have become a reality for millions of ordinary people.

At the moment, space tourism is only a possibility for the incredibly wealthy. In 2001, American multi-millionaire Dennis Tito paid $20 million to become the first space tourist. After eight months of rigorous training, Tito traveled aboard a Russian capsule that was launched by an American company called 'Space Adventures.'

He then spent seven days aboard the International Space Station. Since then, a number of other millionaire space tourists of different nationalities have gone into space.

Although up to now only very wealthy people have had the opportunity to be space tourists, many see this as the beginning of what will eventually become a lucrative new industry. There are several companies that have already invested millions of dollars in developing new, reusable launch vehicles. Their goal is to lower launch costs enough to make it possible for the average person to buy a ticket to space. The Japanese Rocket Society, for example, has set a target price of one million yen (about $10,000).

Virgin Galactic, a British company owned by Richard Branson's Virgin Group, has been working on plans for sending people into space for years. The company is about to begin testing of their eight-seat spacecraft, and expects that they will have worked out any problems by 2022. When the spacecraft is shown to be safe, Virgin Galactic will begin their flights. Although tickets are a steep £100,000 ($123,000), amazingly, the first year of flights has already been booked. One of these future passengers is Lisa Ramirez, a mother of three. When asked why she was prepared to spend so much money on a Galactic flight, Ramirez explained, "I'm 58 years old, and by the time this happens, I will have been dreaming of going to space for at least 45 years!"

There are even companies working on plans to build hotels for space tourists. The Shimizu Corporation, a giant Japanese construction company, has detailed plans for a space hotel concept. They plan to create a 64-room hotel which will orbit 279 miles (450 kilometers) above the surface of Earth. The hotel will slowly spin in order to produce enough force to simulate Earth's gravity. It is estimated that such a space hotel would cost 6 to 12 billion dollars, and would take about six years to build.

Since water was discovered on the moon in 1998, the multi-national hotel chain, Hilton Hotels, has been working on plans for a hotel on the moon. The plans call for a 5,000-room complex with a beach, a working farm, a medical center, and even a school. Two huge solar panels will generate the power. Hilton is working on this project with experts at NASA.

You may wonder what space tourists will do while in space. To begin with, most will probably want to spend some time simply enjoying the incredible sight of Earth from space. After that, no doubt they will spend some time gazing at the amazingly bright stars, and will take a space walk or two. When space tourists have had their fill of observing, they are likely to spend hours amusing themselves floating and doing acrobatics in the zero gravity of space. This zero gravity could provide endless recreational opportunities, including swimming in a zero gravity swimming pool in which people move through a floating mass of water.

With so much research, energy, and money being poured into space tourism, it is clear that it is a matter of when, rather than if space tourism will become a reality.

After Reading

Answer true or false. Rewrite the false statements to make them true.

- 1. _____ The first tourist in space paid two million dollars.
- 2. _____ Virgin Galactic is struggling to book its first year of flights.
- 3. _____ A Japanese construction company has plans to build a hotel in space.
- 4. _____ The entire hotel will experience zero gravity.
- The Hilton Hotel chain plans to power a moon hotel with wind power.
- 6. _____ Hilton Hotels is working on the moon hotel with NASA.

3 What Will They Think of Next?

10 Writing 🗾

- A. 1. How do you think the world will have changed by the year 2050? Think about cities, crops, manufacturing, vehicles, trade, homes and other buildings, and measures to protect people from environmental factors, such as radiation from nuclear power stations.
  - 2. How do you think Saudi Arabia will change in the future? What progress and developments will have been made by 2030 in areas, such as education, society, the economy, technology, culture, and infrastructure?
  - 3. Read the text and compare your ideas in 2 with the plans in the text.
  - 4. Look at the use of active and passive voice in the text. Which is used most often? Why?

All success stories start with a vision, and successful visions are based on strong pillars. By 2030 our Vision for the country will have been implemented, providing greater opportunities for our people.

The pillars on which we will build this Vision are firstly, our status as the heart of the Arab and Islamic worlds, secondly, our determination to become a global investment powerhouse and finally, the transformation of our unique strategic location into a global hub connecting three continents, Asia, Europe and Africa.

By 2030, our Vision will have been developed into reality, built around three themes: a vibrant society, a thriving economy and an ambitious nation.

This first theme is vital to achieving the vision and a strong foundation for economic prosperity.

We recognize the importance of preserving our society and our sophisticated heritage in order to promote national unity and consolidate true Islamic and Arab values. We will endeavor to strengthen, preserve and highlight our national identity so that it can guide the lives of future generations. We will do so by keeping true to our national values and principles, as well as by encouraging social development and upholding the Arabic language. We will continue to work on the restoration of national, Arab, Islamic and ancient cultural sites and strive to make them accessible to everyone, and in the process, create cultural events and build world-class museums which will attract visitors from near and far.

Our cities already enjoy high levels of security and development. Our citizens are safe, secure and healthy. We will continue to maintain this through supporting infrastructure development, providing high-quality services and keeping our crime rates (already among the lowest in the world) very low. We will further continue to develop and provide meaningful recreation facilities to our citizens and encourage the exchange of knowledge and cultural experiences through community clubs and pastimes.

In the second theme, a thriving economy provides opportunities for all by building an education system aligned with market needs and creating economic opportunities for entrepreneurs and small enterprises as well as the large corporations. Therefore, we will develop our investment tools to unlock our promising economic sectors, diversify our economy and create job opportunities. We will also expand our economy and improve the quality of our services. We will continue to support our already excellent education system to help young people gain the skills and training to enter the job market and find work.

Our nation is ambitious in what we want to achieve. We will improve efficiency and take responsibility seriously at all levels. Our third theme is built on an effective, transparent, accountable, enabling and high-performing government. We will also prepare the right environment for our citizens, the private sector and non-profit sector to take their responsibilities and take the initiative in facing challenges and seizing opportunities. One of our responsibilities is towards not only the people of our country and our visitors, but also to the environment. By preserving our environment and natural resources, we fulfill our Islamic, human and moral duties. We will seek to safeguard our environment by increasing the efficiency of waste management. We will promote the optimal use of our water resources and we will direct our efforts towards protecting and rehabilitating our areas of natural beauty.

Education in 2030

By 2030, the Vision Program will have made great progress in developing more ways for us to learn effectively. I think that in addition to supporting teachers and students even more with resources and training, we will also be able to learn from home via the use of computers. This will be helpful for people who live in remote areas or when a child is sick and cannot get to school. There will be online classes and perhaps we will have project materials delivered by drones!

Writing Corner

When you write a personal essay which expresses your views:

- make notes before you start writing to plan what you want to say.
- organize your thoughts into paragraphs; for example, describe the change in the introduction. Use the main body to talk about the impact on you and the impact on society.
- include a conclusion to sum up your views or opinions. Don't include any new information in the conclusion.
- be creative but focused on the topic.
- you don't have to be objective.
- address your audience directly.
- use I narration, as in I think or I feel.
- include examples, personal anecdotes, thoughts, interpretations, or ideas.
- try to get your point across as clearly as possible.
- do not repeat yourself.

EXTRACT 1

Are humans the only intelligent life in the universe? Or, are we just one of many advanced civilizations out there? While people used to assume we were alone in the universe, we now know that the galaxy contains over 100 billion stars. This fact has led many scientists to think it unlikely that we are the only intelligent life form in the universe. Some of these scientists have devoted themselves to searching for other civilizations. This search is commonly referred to as the Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence, or SETI. Since the SETI program began in 1959, scientists have been scanning the sky for signals sent by another, alien civilization. To do this, they used the world's largest radio telescope which is located in Arecibo, Puerto Rico. The Arecibo telescope is 1,000 feet (305) meters) in diameter. This telescope is so large, it is said that it could hold 10 billion bowls of cornflakes! Prior to its partial collapse on December 1, 2020, the telescope collected and sent data to SETI computers

EXTRACT 2

There are companies working on plans to build hotels for space tourists. The Shimizu Corporation, a giant Japanese construction company, has detailed plans for a space hotel concept. They believe they can build a 64-room hotel which will orbit 279 miles (450 kilometers) above the surface of Earth. The hotel will slowly spin in order to produce enough force to simulate Earth's gravity. It is estimated that such a space hotel would cost 6 to 12 billion dollars, and would take about six years to build. You may wonder what space tourists will do while in space. To begin with, most will probably want to spend some time simply enjoying the incredible sight of Earth from space. After that, no doubt they will spend some time gazing at the amazingly bright stars, and will take a space walk or two. When space tourists have had their fill of observing, they are likely to spend hours amusing themselves floating and doing acrobatics in the zero gravity of space. This zero gravity could provide endless recreational opportunities, including swimming in a zero gravity swimming pool in which people move through a floating mass of water.

2 Reading

Before Reading

- Do you think there is life on other planets?
- 2. If there were life on other planets, how could we find this out?

IS ANYBODY OUT THERE?

Are humans the only intelligent life in the universe? Or, are we just one of many advanced civilizations out there? While people used to assume we were alone in the universe, we now know that the galaxy contains over 100 billion stars. This fact has led many scientists to think it unlikely that we are the only intelligent life form in the universe. Some of these scientists have devoted themselves to searching for other civilizations. This search is commonly referred to as the Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence, or SETI.

Since the SETI program began in 1959, scientists have been scanning the sky for signals sent by another alien civilization. To do this, they used the world's largest radio telescope which is located in Arecibo, Puerto Rico. The Arecibo telescope is 1,000 feet (305 meters) in diameter. This telescope is so large, it is said that it could hold 10 billion bowls of cornflakes! Prior to its partial collapse on December 1, 2020, the telescope collected and sent data to SETI computers 24 hours a day.

Many people don't realize that in addition to searching for radio waves, we humans are sending them out into space as well. This is because all of the radio and television signals that come into our homes also travel > into space. We have been constantly and unintentionally leaking radio waves into space for over sixty years now. One day these signals may be > > detected by an alien civilization. In fact, it is possible that aliens are already listening to Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?, CSI, and The Simpsons!

Although SETI has found some unexplained signals, there have not been any clear, confirmed extraterrestrial signals yet. However, SETI scientists are not at all discouraged. They know that the universe is vast, and searching the entire sky for a distant signal is like searching for a needle in a haystack.

Not only are SETI scientists not discouraged, they are actually more optimistic than ever before. They do feel that in another 50 or 100 years, they will have succeeded in detecting alien signals. What is the reason for this confidence? Previous searches were limited by the shortcomings of available technology. For example, while there are hundreds of billions of stars in our galaxy, fewer than a thousand have been monitored for alien signals. But technology is improving all the time. As technology improves, scientists are going to have a better chance of picking up alien signals. In the next few decades, hundreds of thousands of stars, maybe even millions, will have been monitored.

Some people find it hard to believe that perhaps one day we will be communicating with aliens from distant planets. But others feel differently. Eighty-six-year-old Daniel Jackman says, "When I was a young man, if you had told me that one day we were going to send people into space, I would've told you that you were crazy. Now I know better. Just because we're used to certain limitations doesn't mean we can't go beyond them."

We may well learn one day that we are not alone in the universe. In the meantime, when sitting on your couch, watching your favorite TV program, consider that an alien civilization may be listening to it with you!

Tools for Writing: Commonly Confused Words

Fewer and less have the same meaning. They are both the opposite of more. However, fewer is used with count nouns and less is used with noncount nouns.

Fewer people are buying newspapers than ever before.

Since the new police chief took over, there has been less crime in our city.

Farther is used to talk about distance. Further is used to mean additional. Most Arabian bred horses can run faster and farther than English bred horses. I'm going to call the school to get further information about the program.

Writing Prompt

Write an expository essay about a common device or technology. Write about the history of the technology, and make predictions about how you think the technology will change in the future. Include grammar points from Units 1–4.

Write Your Essay

- 1. Decide on the type of device or technology you will write about.
- Use a chart to organize your ideas. Write your topic at the top. Then write ideas about the past, present, and future of the device or technology.
- 3. Write a draft of your essay.
- Have a partner read and comment on your draft. Use your partner's comments and suggestions to revise your essay.

Device/Technology:
Past	Present	Future

Developing Your Writing: Prewriting Techniques

Prewriting is an important first step in the writing process. Prewriting helps you explore and gather your ideas before you begin organizing and writing your essay. These are some of the most common types of prewriting techniques:

Freewriting: Freewriting involves taking the time (usually about five minutes) to write down all of the ideas you have about your topic before you begin researching or organizing the topic. When you freewrite, do not worry about using correct spelling, grammar, or punctuation, or even writing in complete sentences.

Brainstorming: Like freewriting, the purpose of brainstorming is to capture all of the ideas you have on a topic before you begin writing about it. However, when you brainstorm you only write words or phrases related to your topic.

Questioning: Ask the journalist's five W's—Who? What? When? Where? Why?—about the topic. List as many questions as you can about the topic. This will help you start thinking about questions to research and answer in your essay.

The Past, Present, and Future of the Telephone

Telephones are something we all take for granted. We are so used to having them that it is hard to imagine that they were only invented a little over 100 years ago. Just think, at the beginning of the twentieth century there were fewer than four million phones in the world. And if you wanted to speak with another person over the phone, you would need an operator to make the connection between you and the other person. Telephone technology has changed a lot over the last 100 years, and I believe in just another ten or twenty years it will have changed radically from what it is today...

- 1. What is your favorite TV film? Explain why it is your favorite.
- 2. Which of the following genres do you like best: animation, comedy, or adventure? Why?
- 3. What's the worst TV film you have ever seen? Explain.

NAME THE TV FILM

About the story: This science fiction action-adventure film is about the efforts of a group of people to save the surviving dinosaurs on Isla Nublar, a fictional Central American island in the Pacific. Three years after the Jurassic World theme park was closed down and the island was abandoned by humans, a dormant volcano on the island becomes active, threatening the dinosaurs living there. Claire Dearing, the theme park's former operations manager, and Owen Grady, the park's former velociraptor trainer, set out to rescue the remaining dinosaurs before the volcano erupts and destroys the island. While Owen is looking for Blue, the last surviving velociraptor, he uncovers a conspiracy that could change life on the whole planet

NAME THE TV F

About the story: This animated film presents the story of a lion cub's journey to adulthood. The cub is the son of a powerful and wise king. But his happy childhood comes to an abrupt end when his evil uncle murders his father and drives him away from the kingdom. The young lion goes into exile in the jungle, where he makes two good friends and lives a carefree life. However, as he gets older, he dreams of his father, who tells him to battle his evil uncle and reclaim his family throne.

NAME THE TV FILM

About the story: This action-adventure comedy film is about a small, extremely fast, blue hedgehog called Sonic, and his adventures on Earth. After traveling to Earth from another planet, Sonic spends many lonely years living in secret near the fictional town of Green Hills, Montana, in the United States. One night, he runs at supersonic speed while playing baseball by himself and this causes a power outage in a large part of the country, so the government asks evil genius Dr. Robotnik to investigate. Luckily, Sonic meets and becomes friends with local town sheriff Tom Wachowski and the two team up to stop Dr. Robotnik from capturing Sonic and using his powers to rule the world.

About the story: This is a documentary about Bruce Lee's life, career, and death. It reveals a side of Lee unknown to the public, along with the better known qualities of the celebrity—the man that the world knew. Lee had been working on a new project at the time of his death, ironically titled Game of Death. Rare camera shots have been included in the documentary according to Lee's own script notes in an attempt to convey his ambitions for the project and his frame of mind toward the end of his life.

3 Grammar

Both...And, Not Only...But Also, Either...Or, Neither...Nor

Both...and, not only...but also, either...or, and neither...nor are all paired conjunctions. They are used to link two words, phrases, or clauses of the same type. For example, nouns are linked with nouns, adjectives are linked with adjectives, and verbs are linked with verbs.

My favorite film is either Sonic the Hedgehog or The Lion King.

He is not only hardworking, but also intelligent.

When connecting two subjects with both...and, be sure to use a plural verb.

Both my father and his boss were present in the meeting.

When connecting two subjects using either...or, not only...but also, or neither...nor, the choice to use a singular or plural verb depends on the subject that is closer to the verb.

Neither my uncle nor my brothers want to see that documentary.

Neither my brothers nor my uncle wants to see that documentary.

Independent Clauses with And, But, Or, So, and Yet

An independent clause is a group of words that includes a subject and verb. It expresses a complete thought, and can stand alone as a sentence.

I ordered the engine part online.

Two or more independent clauses can be combined with coordinating conjunction words, like and, but, or, so, and yet.

I ordered the engine part online, but now I can't find the confirmation number.

The conference hall wasn't air-conditioned, so I demanded a refund.

I liked the book, yet I hated the film.

Note: When a sentence includes two independent clauses joined by a coordinating conjunction, use a comma before the coordinating conjunction.

Adel: What didn't you like about it?

Fahd: For one thing, the Bulls' key player missed every easy shot. It really bothered me throughout the entire game.

Adel: Well, you're right about that. But what else didn't you like?

Fahd: I thought their uniforms were ridiculous. I found the whole idea of the Bulls' players wearing cowhide tops hard to swallow.

Adel: I don't agree at all. The whole idea is to stand out in the game. The tops are not real cowhide. It's fake cowhide.

Fahd: I'm not sure they were fake. Think of all the poor animals they took the hides from. They must believe that the poor animals are a dime a dozen. Anyway, by the end of the game, I started to doze off.

Adel: We seem to have very different tastes in basketball and uniforms. Maybe next time we get together we should just go out to a restaurant.

Fahd: I couldn't agree more.

The World of TV

8 Reading

Before Reading

Brainstorm a list of elements in a detective story.

The Formula behind Detective Stories on TV

Detective stories have always been a favorite in literature, and now they are one of the most popular genres in TV films and series. There is something Clearly, the TV audience enjoys the mystery and non-stop suspense of detective films. However, ironically, there is also predictability to the story that is tremendously appealing. Certain elements and sequences of events appear over and over in detective stories and are eagerly awaited by fans. TV films and series with such predictable elements are known as formula films. The TV audience knows the plot will be puzzling and sometimes have unexpected results. They know the hero will confront dangerous villains. They know there will be complicated steps involved in piecing together all the clues, and they are challenged to try to figure out the mystery before the detective.

The most basic element in the formula of a detective story is the hero—the detective. This is the character the viewer identifies with throughout the film. He is usually a courageous individual with superior intelligence. He is often charming and outgoing, which helps him socialize with others, while, in fact, he is collecting information from witnesses and gathering evidence for his case. Another type of hero is the gruff and serious detective, who rarely smiles, but is very efficient at his job. In contrast, the hero in detective comedies is a naïve and clumsy character who accidentally stumbles across clues to eventually solve the crime.

Of course, the villain also plays a crucial role in the story. On occasion, the villain's identity is a mystery and is only revealed at the end, but more often he is introduced to the TV audience. Just as there are formulaic types of heroes, there are stereotypical villains: cold-blooded, greedy criminals, evil geniuses, and mad scientists. Most villains also have physical or psychological defects that add to the ugliness of their character, such as a scarred face, a missing limb, or a split personality.

The detective is challenged to find the villain by following clues. To assist him, he uses special talents in intellectual reasoning or has help from technological devices. These range from a simple magnifying glass to sophisticated DNA analysis and electronic tracking devices. Some detectives even use high-tech gadgets that are disguised as everyday objects, such as an explosive pen, a laser watch, or a computerized, talking vehicle!

When the hero confronts the villain, there are always scenes of action and danger. These involve high-speed chases on any kind of vehicle imaginable—cars, motorcycles, helicopters, speed boats, skis, submarines, camels, or simply on foot. If the detective is captured, he finds himself in life-threatening situations and must use his skills to escape. He is then even more determined to catch the villain.

One way or another, the detective always accomplishes his mission, much to the satisfaction of the audience. The formula for detective stories is so successful; it is hard to imagine that it will ever be significantly altered. After all, who wants to watch a detective story without action and adventure, or in which the villain wins?

After Reading

Answer true or false. Rewrite the false statements to make them true.

- 1. ___ Detective stories are only popular on TV.
- 2. ___ The success of detective stories is due to a combination of elements.
- 3. ___ Many elements of a detective story are predictable.
- 4. ___ All detective stories have an intelligent and charming hero.
- 5. ___ The formula of detective stories is likely to change in the future.

9 Speaking

- Work in pairs/groups. Compare two TV films or documentaries that you have seen. Think about the characters, setting, plot, story development, special effects, and other features in the TV films; consider the theme, setting, time period, history, special effects, and outcome in the documentaries.
- Make notes in the appropriate chart. Use your notes to talk about the similarities and differences of the TV films/documentaries that you have compared in class.

Title	TV Film 1:	TV Film 2: characters/actors setting plot story development special effects
other features

Title	TV Documentary 1:	TV Documentary 2:

4 The World of TV

10 Writing

- A. 1. What kind of TV films do you enjoy? Why?
  - 2. Are there categories of TV films that you are not interested in or you dislike? Which? Why?
  - 3. Can you explain what is meant by "film genres"?
  - 4. Read the text and find out.
    - · What are genres? How are they defined?
    - How easy is it to classify TV films?
    - · Are there distinct and permanent categories? Why? Why not?
  - What are the distinguishing characteristics of different genres? Underline/highlight words/phrases or sentences that provide the answer.

action	adventure	comedy	drama	animation	epics

Main Genres of TV Films

Film genres are categories of films based on theme, setting, plots/stories, characters, and other specific features such as special effects, computer enhancement, animation, etc. There are major genres and subgenres. For example, adventure and action films are quite well-known and associated with popular heroes such as Superman or the Rambo sequels.

It is not always easy to classify films as they often combine elements of different genres. Kung Fu Panda, for instance, is an animated film which can also be categorized as an action film. This is the reason why some films are listed in different categories or a category that is more popular at a given time.

Film genres evolve through time. Action films featuring martial arts specialists and superhuman heroes used to be very popular over a decade ago. They still exist, but they seem to have lost their initial appeal. If a film includes action and is filmed in tropical settings, is it an action film or an adventure film? Would you say that Madagascar belongs to animation as a genre or comedy? Is it more of one or the other? And if so, which?

Detective films are developed around stories of criminal actions and include elements of mystery and suspense. Dramas, on the other hand, are serious films, portraying realistic life situations, character development, and interaction. They include a number of subcategories, e.g. melodramas, biographies, or "biopics." Epics are usually costume dramas, historical dramas, or war dramas in extravagant settings with lavish costumes. They are sometimes a more spectacular version of a biopic film, such as The Last Emperor.

Horror films are designed and produced to frighten audiences. They are sometimes combined with science fiction when, for example, Earth is invaded by an alien monster. Science fiction films, on the other hand, are often visionary, with futuristic technology and extraordinary creatures from outer space. One of the most famous examples of this genre is E.T.

War films portray the horror and destruction of war and are often combined with documentary excerpts. They are also paired with other genres depending on the story, e.g. action, adventure, drama, comedy, etc. Finally, Westerns represent one of the oldest genres with easily recognizable plots, elements, and characters, including horses, dusty towns, Indians and cowboys, good and bad guys, a sheriff and deputies, etc. In other words, they follow a common formula which has been modified, developed, expanded, supplemented, and revisited over the years.

If you look up film genres in different sources, you will find that they share some categories but not others. Once again, this is quite natural, given the evolutionary nature of film genres and changing trends in popularity that reflect overall social and financial trends.

e.g. melodrai المارة e.g. melodrai المارة قال قال المارة المارة

- B. 1. Think of a TV film genre that uses a formula (e.g. action, adventure, comedy, Western). Choose a particular TV film in this genre as an example.
  - 2. Think about the different parts of the formula. Use a diagram to make notes.
  - 3. Write an expository essay in which you reveal and explain the formula behind the film.

A Coming-of-Age Film

The Lion King is a coming-of-age film. Coming-of-age films focus on a young person's journey to adulthood, often both emotionally and physically. In these kinds of films there is usually a role model who helps teach the main character, and there is usually a test that the character must undergo. The Lion King is a good example of this kind of film because...

Writing Corner

When you write an expository essay:

- · choose a specific area of a topic to focus on.
- think about your audience or readers.
- · research and collect information from different sources.
- think of examples and comments made by others.
- · you can use quotes, exchanges, and arguments from your sources.
- · if necessary, you can present the information in three main sections:
  - a. an introduction and thesis statement;
  - b. a longer paragraph or a number of paragraphs presenting the information about different aspects or categories of the main topic;
  - c. a closing paragraph.
- you are free to use different types of text, arguments, and material, including visuals.

Comparative and Superlative Forms of Adjectives

The Comparative

Use more/less + adjective, or adjective + -er to make the comparative.

Detective stories are more/less popular than stories about space travel.

Goldfish are smaller than clownfish.

Use words such as: a little, slightly, much, a lot, considerably, definitely, and certainly to express how much something differs, or to add emphasis.

Children's TV films are considerably better than they used to be.

Use as+ adjective + as to compare things that are equal or similar.

Dora and the Lost City of Gold is as good as Sonic the Hedgehog.

Use not as + adjective + as to compare things that are different.

The Lion King and Jurassic Park are good TV films but not as good as Star Wars.

Use the + comparative, the + comparative to describe two actions. The second action happens as a result of the first.

The more I hear about the Giza Pyramids, the more I want to know.

The harder he works at speaking English, the better he becomes.

The Superlative

Use the + adjective + -est or the most/least + adjective to make the superlative.

The Nobel prize is the most prestigious award a scientist can win.

The company director agreed that it was the least attractive offer, but he was obliged to take it.

We can use the expression by far to add emphasis.

Pirates of the Caribbean is by far the best TV film of all.

A. Write sentences about the animals using comparative and superlative structures.

camel • cat • cheetah • donkey • eagle • elephant • goldfish • horse • ostrich • snake • tiger • lion

1. Both cheetahs and tigers are big cats.

Lions are the biggest of the cats.

The biggest tigers are as big as lions.

Cheetahs are a lot smaller and more slender in comparison.

The cheetah is by far the fastest land animal on Earth.

- 1. cheetah/tiger/lion
- 2. camel/donkey/horse/elephant
- 3. ostrich/eagle
- bear/snake
- 5. Your own idea
- B. Imagine you are a contestant on a TV Quiz show. Work with a partner. Ask and answer the questions.
  - 1. What's the most widely spoken language?
  - 2. What's the tallest mountain?
  - 3. What's the largest desert?
  - 4. What's the deepest ocean?
- وزارة التع Ministru64Education

- 5. What's the most populated city?
- 6. What's the largest lake (by size)?
- 7. What's the hottest place?
- 8. What's the driest place?

Words Connected with Space and the Planetary System: Part 2

Look at this information about the planets in our solar system:

Name of Planet	Distance from the Sun (km)	Radius (km)	Number of moons	Geographical Features or Special Facts
Mercury	57,909,227	2,440	None	rocky
Venus	108,209,475	6,052	None	rocky, high mountains, volcanoes, poisonous air
Earth	149,598,262	6,371	1	rocky, inhabited, mountains, volcanoes
Mars	227,943,824	3,390	2	rocky, mountains, volcanoes
Jupiter	778,340,821	69,911	68	cold, rings
Saturn	1,426,666,422	58,232	62	cold, rings
Uranus	2,870,658,186	25,362	27	cold, icy rings
Neptune	4,498,396,441	24,622	14	cold, icy rings

Note: Our Solar System used to be described as a group of nine planets, but scientists now consider Pluto to be a dwarf planet.

Irregular Comparative and Superlative Adjectives

In most cases we make comparative and superlative adjectives by adding -er/-est, or we use more/most or less/least. However, a small number of adjectives are irregular.

well (healthy) – better – the best far (distance) —farther or further – the farthest or the furthest old (people in a family) – older or elder – the oldest or the eldest bad – worse – the worst good –better – the best

C. Use the chart above to find information about the planets. Choose the correct word to make true facts about our solar system.

Some planets are much bigger and farther away from the sun than others. Jupiter is by far the (1. biggest / hottest) and Mercury is the (2. smallest / coldest) in our solar system. Mars is (3. closer / farther) from the sun than Earth. Mercury is the (4. closest / farthest) planet to the sun. It is so (5. close / far) to the sun that if you stood on the surface of the planet, the sun would appear at least three times (6. larger / smaller) than it does on Earth.

Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars are all rocky planets, but Earth is the only one that is (7. inhabitable / uninhabitable), which means that people, animals and plants live on it. Venus is only (8. slightly / almost) smaller than Earth and has many high mountains and volcanoes. Venus is so (9. close / far) to the sun that the land is (10. hotter / colder) than boiling water. Mars is a (11. rocky / icy) planet and is known as the Red Planet because of the red color of the planet's surface. Mars is (12. almost / considerably) half the size of Earth.

The four planets (13. farthest / closest) away from the sun are Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune. They are very (14. hot / cold) and (15. green / icy) places. Jupiter has the (16. least / most) number of known moons. Jupiter's four (17. largest / smallest) moons were observed in 1610 by an Italian astronomer called Galileo Galilei. Saturn has the (18. least / most) spectacular ring system of all the planets. There are 7 rings made up of dust, rocks and ice. (19. Most / More) than 40 spacecraft have explored Saturn, but only one has visited Uranus and Neptune. Neptune is the (20. farthest / closest) from the sun and makes a complete orbit around the sun in about 165 Earth years.

- 3. Use the storyboard framework below. Write the script/commentary of the documentary under Comments and what will be happening in the scene under Action.
- 4. Use a large sheet of paper or cardboard to create a realistic storyboard. Draw and/or use photos or parts of photos and drawings for the scenes. Transfer your script and action notes onto the storyboard. You can write your notes by hand or word process them. Use a font that is easy to read. Present your storyboard in class.

3 Grammar

Adverb Clauses

An adverb clause is a dependent clause. It begins with an adverb and is always linked to an independent clause.

Because the shoes were on sale, I bought two pairs.

(adverb clause) (independent clause)

Don't buy that dress unless you really need it. (independent clause) (adverb clause)

Note: When an adverb clause begins the sentence, use a comma to separate it from the independent clause. When the adverb clause is at the end, do not use a comma.

Because, because of, since, and now that begin adverb clauses that give information about reasons.

They closed the store early, since there were no customers.

Because of must be followed by a noun (or noun phrase).

They went to the mall, because of the sale.

(In order) to and so (that) begin adverb clauses that give information about purpose.

(In order) to must be followed with the base form of the verb.

Advertisements use many techniques in order to convince people to buy products.

Clauses with so (that) usually include a modal.

I left my wallet at home, so that I wouldn't be tempted to buy anything.

If, even if, in case, only if, and unless begin adverb clauses that give information about conditions.

I'll write down my phone number in case you need it.

Use if to show that the condition affects the result. Use even if to show that it does not. Use the present tense with an if-clause, even if it refers to a future time.

We won't go to the picnic if it rains.

We're going to the picnic, even if it rains.

Where, wherever, and everywhere begin adverb clauses that give information about place.

4 Conversation

Farah: Wow! Look at all those bags! I wouldn't buy any more if I were you. I think you're going to regret spending so much money today. You bought four sweaters, three dresses, and two pairs of shoes.

Actually, I bought three pairs of shoes. But don't Amal:

worry. I'm not buying another thing. I don't think I could carry anything else. And anyway, after all this shopping, I'm officially broke.

Let's go so that you're not tempted to buy anything else. Hey, where are you going?

Look at this gorgeous sweater! Amal:

Amal! Didn't you just say you weren't going to buy another thing?

Yeah, but now I'm not so sure. I hardly have any red sweaters, and this one is adorable. Amal:

I thought you were broke. I would just walk away from it if I were you. Farah:

Well, I do have my credit card. Amal:

I don't think using your credit card is a good idea. Think carefully about it before you blow more Farah:

money on more clothes.

You're right. I'd better not max out my credit card. OK. I'm going to show some self-control. If I stay Amal:

here another minute or two, I'll break down and buy it. So quick—let's beat it.

5 Do You Really Need It?

8 Reading

Before Reading

Make a list of all the places you see ads in your everyday life. How many ads do you think you are exposed to in an average day?

ADS EVERYWHERE: Do You "Buy" It?

For most people, it is virtually impossible to go through the day without seeing advertisements. From the time we wake up and flip on the TV or check our email, we are surrounded by advertisements. They are in magazines, on buses, on billboards, online, and on

In the past, advertisements were usually designed to reach people in their homes through traditional approaches, like TV commercials and newspaper and magazine ads. However, people's viewing habits have changed dramatically in the last couple of decades. These days, people are less likely to give one form of media their full attention. For example, even if someone is watching TV, they are also often using the Internet at the same time. Advertisers need the consumer's attention in order to promote their products. But because getting this attention is harder than it used to be, advertisers have been forced to find new ways of reaching the consumer.

One unconventional place advertisements are popping up is in doctors' offices. In some doctors' offices, pharmaceutical companies advertise products on everything from boxes of tissues to the paper covering the exam table. Doctors get free products, and the advertisers get the consumers', attention. Similarly, advertisements are becoming more common in schools. "Free" products such as book covers and educational posters are offered by companies so that the company can advertise on these materials. In the U.S., a company called Channel One broadcasts a ten-minute news program followed by two minutes of commercials each day in 350,000 schools. Because the schools show these news programs, the companies give them thousands of dollars worth of much needed audiovisual equipment.

Advertisers have found that one of the best ways to get consumer attention is to place ads in unusual places. So, ads are popping up in all kinds of unexpected places like pizza boxes, grocery carts, air sickness bags on airplanes, and even on pieces of food like bananas and apples. A television network recently imprinted its logo on 35 million eggs. They called the approach "egg-vertisements."

One of the strangest developments in advertising has been people selling advertising space on themselves! This mini-trend began in 2005 when a man offered his face for advertising to the highest bidder on eBay. A pharmaceutical company won the spot, paying the man $37,375 to place a temporary sticker on his forehead to advertise one of their products. He may have been the first to offer such an unusual exchange, but he was not the last.

Perhaps the sneakiest form of advertising is called buzz marketing. This involves a company hiring people to create excitement about a product. In exchange for free products or money, these people pretend to talk about the product spontaneously in everyday settings to people they meet in their daily lives. Sometimes professional actors are even hired to pose as users of the product. If the technique is done correctly, the consumers do not even know that they were the target of buzz marketing. Lately, buzz marketing has been spreading to chat rooms, Internet forums, and blogs.

Wherever we go, advertisements seem to follow. Unless you're reading this article on a desert island, there's probably an advertisement close by. And there seems to be no limit to the lengths advertisers will go to in order to catch our attention. In the years ahead, we can expect advertisers to come up with even more creative, surprising, and outlandish forms of advertising in their ongoing efforts to grab our attention—and our wallets!

After Reading

- 1. How many advertisements is the average person exposed to each day?
- 2. What are traditional advertising approaches?
- 3. What does the author of the article consider to be one of the strangest developments in advertising?
- 4. What does the author consider to be the sneakiest form of advertising?

Speaking

- 1. Work in pairs/groups. Think about advertising that is used to address adults, teenagers, and young children in your country. Decide on 2-3 products and/or services for each age group. Which advertisements are more memorable, in your view?
- 2. Talk about the slogans, images, and methods/techniques used in these advertisements and make notes in the chart. Then use your notes to discuss your ideas in class.

10 Writing

- A. 1. Do you enjoy writing by hand? Why? Why not?
  - Do you think handwriting is a useful skill? Why? Why not?
  - Read the text and find out.
    - · What does handwriting involve?
    - · Why are some people not keen on writing by hand?
    - · What can specialists find out about someone through his or her handwriting?
    - Why is word-processing popular?
    - Which types of tests are mentioned? What is the difference between them?
    - What is the writer's viewpoint on the issue? Do you agree or disagree? Why?

Handwriting involves forming letters with a writing implement. Proper handwriting, i.e. cursive writing, normally requires formal training that is still in place in some schools. Naturally, at initial literacy levels young learners are trained to manipulate a writing implement and develop their eye-hand coordination so they can form letters.

As learners get older, however, they are more reluctant to write. One of the reasons mentioned is the fact that most people word-process, making handwriting unnecessary. Even older adults that used to have a distinct handwriting style often claim to have lost the ability to write smoothly and evenly. So is handwriting obsolete? Should we forget about it?

Handwriting has been a very distinct identifying feature. It represents the writer in more ways than one. Graphologists analyze handwriting to determine character traits, gender, personality, and emotional state or to authenticate documents. Allowing it to truly become obsolete would remove an identity marker that has been regarded quite highly in historical and personal terms. Handwritten notes of prominent authors are coveted by collectors, who will often pay exorbitant amounts to possess them.

On the other hand, most of us will invariably use a computer when we write. It is fast and efficient, and it makes editing so much easier. You can delete, copy, paste, and store versions of your work throughout stages of editing for later reference; you can expressions. Compared to all these advantages, restricting and restricted that most computer literate people limit it to scribbling notes for someone or filling in forms that are not available in electronic form.

Tests, you might argue, require handwriting. Some do and some are computer-based; it is true, however, that a substantial number of pen and paper tests require writing by hand within a set time limit. "Rusty" handwriting is likely to affect the final score.

Overall, there seems to be some resistance to the total and unbroken hegemony of the computer, indicating that people do not want to become totally reliant on it. They are keen to hang on to some of the more tangible aspects of literate life that can be manipulated and accessed without the help of a device, such as reading books or writing by hand.

In view of the above, we would have to consider a more inclusive standpoint that allows us to exploit technological advances, while maintaining the ability to write with a simple implement on a surface for someone to read. Being able to record ideas, information, and messages in a self-sufficient and independent manner allows us to control the action itself and continue being masters of our expression.

- Read the text again and identify:
  - thesis statements
- supporting statements
- 5. What are some of the differences between this text and an expository essay?

- Think about reasons why advertising in schools is a good or bad idea. Use an organizer to write down your ideas.
- 3. Write a letter to your local newspaper about this topic, trying to convince the reader that your view is correct.

Dear Editor,

In response to last week's article about the rights and wrongs of advertising in schools, I am writing to give you my opinion on why I think it is a positive thing.

First of all, having adverts in and around the school gives teachers the opportunity to teach students about the field of marketing and advertising ....

Moreover, ...

To sum up, ...

Writing Corner

When you write a letter to communicate your opinion and feelings on a controversial topic:

- · start with an appropriate greeting: Dear Editor, Dear Sir or Madam, Dear Mr. Jones.
- state clearly the reason why you are writing and give your general opinion on the topic.
- state your reasons for your opinion by giving reasons and/or examples.
- organize your reasons into clear paragraphs. Each paragraph should start with a sentence which gives the main reason (topic sentence). The paragraph should then be developed in such a way that you support the topic sentence with more details and examples.
- use connectors to list your main reasons: Moreover, ...; In addition, ...; Additionally, ...; What's more, ...; Last but not least, ... and so on.
- to express your opinion, uses phrases such as: In my opinion, ...; From my point of view, ...; As far as I'm concerned, ...; I strongly believe that, ...
- ask yourself what objections your readers might have to your ideas and use phrases to express a general opinion such as: Most people think that ...; Everyone knows that ...; Most people support/oppose the idea...
- select features and benefits that you can present to overcome these objections.
- do not forget to write a conclusion carefully, going back to your initial thesis statement and summarizing your facts/arguments. Use phrases such as: To sum up, ...; In conclusion, ...; To conclude, ... and so on.

Form, Meaning and Function

You can use conditional sentences with if to talk about causes and results.

Present Facts

Use the simple present tense in both clauses.

Our bottles are recyclable. If you drink Crystal Spring water, not only do you feel more energetic but you help the environment.

Future Facts

Use the simple present in the if-clause and the future with be going to or will in the result clause.

If you drive the BMX-3000, people will notice and admire you.

If you have dull and lifeless hair, Floral Essence shampoo will make it healthy and shiny.

You won't feel your best, if your clothes don't look their best.

May/Might

Ministry 8 Education 2025 - 1447

Use may/might in the result clause to suggest something is possible, but not certain.

If you haven't yet worn Planet Mercury sneakers, you may not be performing to your best ability. Put your feet in them today to see what you can do!

I'd Rather/I'd Prefer

Use I'd rather (= I would rather) to talk about preferences.

A: Would you prefer to go shopping or stay home?

B: I'd rather go shopping.

A: I'd prefer to stay home. I don't want to spend all my money.

Δ	Complete the sentences about facts. Use the simple present or will in the second clause.	111
	1. If you (heat) water to 100°C, it (boil).

Words Connected with Shopping Habits

Some words connected with different ways of shopping are:

Shopping Mall	Small Stores	Online Shopping
wide range of products	friendly service	convenient discounts	neighborhood	door-to-door delivery
food courts	helpful staff	fast
entertainment	appealing atmosphere	wide range of products
luxury	convenient location	pay by card

Small, neighborhood stores offer a friendly, personal service.

Luxurious shopping malls provide entertainment, food and good discounts on products.

Online shopping is becoming more and more popular as it's convenient, fast and you can pay by credit card.

Conditional Sentences with When and Unless

Use when in place of if to talk about general truths. Use the present tense in both clauses.

When you press the button, the washing machine turns off.

When water reaches 100 °C, it boils.

Unless I study hard, I won't get top marks.

Unless you exercise, you probably won't lose weight.

Unless you study harder, you will fail the test.

- D. Read the advertisements. Work with a partner and persuade him or her to buy the product. Use sentences with when, if and unless
- When you brush your teeth with Sparkle toothpaste, your teeth will be cleaner and brighter. If you buy this toothpaste, your teeth will look great. If you don't buy this toothpaste, you might need to visit the dentist. Unless you buy this toothpaste, your teeth will look terrible.
- E. Work with a partner. Talk about your preferences and give some reasons. Use conditional sentences in the present or future.
- I'd prefer to go the mall. If we go to the mall, we can also have lunch in the restaurant.
  - 1. local store/the mall

5 Do You Really Need It?

12 Project

- Work in pairs/groups. Think about the advertisements that you see, watch, or hear every day. They can be billboards, advertisements in magazines or newspapers, TV commercials, radio advertisements, leaflets, stickers, etc.
- 2. Choose one that you think is beneficial and helpful to people.
- Discuss and identify the product or service that is being advertised, the target group, the text/script or slogan that is being used, the image, and the message that the advertisement is trying to get across. Make notes in the chart.
- 4. Create a new advertisement for the product. Use a different medium. If for example, you have chosen a magazine advertisement, you might want to develop a TV advertisement for the same product or service. Use your notes to help you.
- 5. If you decide to create a TV advertisement, remember to make a storyboard. If, on the other hand, you have decided to create a radio advertisement with people talking to each other, remember to write a script. Finally, if you decide to design a magazine or billboard advertisement, make sure you prepare a sample with photos, colors, special fonts, etc.
- 6. Role-play. Take on the roles of advertising teams and clients (company executives of the product or service). Each advertising team has to present their new advertisement to the clients in a convincing manner so they can persuade them to agree to it.

6 The Gender Divide

Listen and Discuss

- In what ways do you think men and women behave differently?
- 2. In what ways do you think their behavior is similar?
- 3. Do you think there are more similarities or differences?

Do you think you know a lot about men and women? Answer True or False for these statements. Then check your answers with the results of gender studies.

1.	Women talk more than men.	True	False
2.	Women tend to worry more than men.	True	False
3.	Men are more truthful than women.	True	False
4.	Men are more easily bored than women.	True	False
5.	Women have a greater tolerance for pain.	True	False
6.	Women live longer than men.	True	False

Sandy: I think women talk much more than men.

Amal: That's just a stereotype. Though I do think women talk more than men about certain things.

Sandy: Like what?

Amal: Women like to talk about their feelings, but men usually don't.

Sandy: Men'd rather talk about sports. Or cars.

Amal: Typical!

- 1. The common stereotype that women talk more than men is wrong. In fact, recent research shows that there is very little gender difference in how much people speak. Some research suggests that men tend to speak more than women in formal settings, and that women speak more in informal situations. One study revealed that women speak an average of about 16,000 words a day, and men do too.
- 2. Studies show that women worry more frequently than men. This may be due to the fact that women's brains produce less of a brain chemical called COMT, which controls anxiety. Having less of this chemical can make it harder for a person to stop worrying.
- 3. Women lie frequently, and men do too. However, research shows that women and men tend to lie about different things. Women are more likely to lie in order to try to not hurt a person's feelings. They are also more likely to lie to try to avoid a conflict. However, you are more likely to be told a lie by a man for a different reason. Men more often lie in order to make themselves seem more impressive.
- 4. Studies show that men have more restless temperaments than women. For example, women seem to have a capacity to adjust to repetitive tasks, but men don't. They dislike being asked to do such tasks and are less likely to successfully complete them. It is speculated that women do better in these situations because they have a greater ability to keep their thoughts and imagination active, even during tedious activities.

- 5. Many people assume that since women have babies, and men don't, women probably have a greater ability to deal with pain. However, the research seems to indicate that, due to their body chemistry, women actually have lower tolerance for pain. During recovery after surgery, women tend to experience pain with greater frequency and intensity than men do.
- 6. Women outlive men all around the world, sometimes by an average of as much as 10 years. For example, in the U.S., the average life expectancy is about 79 for women, but only 72 for men. The gap is largest among people who live to be 100 or older. Worldwide among people 100 or older, women outnumber men 9 to 1.

Answers:

1. False; 2. True; 3. False; 4. True; 5. False; 6. True

Quick Check 🗹

A. Vocabulary. Complete each sentence with a word from the box.

anxiety	gender	repetitive	stereotype	temperament
capacity	intensity	restless	tedious

- 1. The _____ that blond-haired people are not smart is ridiculous.
- 2. We were bored and ______, so we decided to find something to do.
- 3. That film is very _____. It shows the same place over and over.
- 4. I always feel overwhelming _____ the night before a test.
- 5. The _____ of the thunderstorm made the animals nervous.
- 6. Some people believe that animals have the _____ to feel the same emotions that humans do.
- 7. Luisa has a lovely _____. She's always happy and smiling.
- 8. Finding sources for an essay can be a time-consuming and _____ task.
- 9. The ______ of an animal often has a specific name; for example, a male horse is a stallion and a female horse is a mare.
- B. Comprehension. Answer the questions.
  - In what types of settings do women tend to speak more?
  - 2. What causes women to worry more than men?
  - 3. What things do women tend to lie about? What things do men tend to lie about?
  - 4. What might explain women's ability to deal with repetitive tasks better than men?
  - Which gender has the longer life expectancy? Give an example.

2 Pair Work

 Work with a partner to think of another common stereotype about people. Decide whether you think the stereotype is true or false. After class, do research to confirm whether your decision was correct.

The Gender Divide

Verbs + Infinitives or Gerunds with Different Meanings

Some verbs can be followed by either a gerund or an infinitive, but the verb + gerund and the verb + infinitive have different meanings. These verbs are remember, forget, regret, stop, and try.

He always remembers to send his grandparents a gift on special holidays. (remember + infinitive = remember to do a task)

He remembers sending gifts last year. (remember + gerund = remember having done something in the past)

She sometimes forgets to call. (forget + infinitive = not remember to do a task)

She sometimes forgets calling. (forget + gerund = not remember having done something in the past)

I regret to tell you that I have a secret. (regret + infinitive = wish it were not necessary to do something) I regret telling you my secret. (regret + gerund = wish it were possible to undo something done in the past)

We stopped to watch the sunset. (stop + infinitive = stop doing something in order to do something else) We stopped watching the sunset. (stop + gerund = stop doing something)

I tried to reach them, but they didn't answer the phone. (try + infinitive = make an attempt to do something) I tried reaching them by email. (try + gerund = try a specific method to reach a goal)

Passive Forms of Infinitives and Gerunds

The passive form of an infinitive is: to + be + past participle.

Everybody wants to be respected by somebody.

The passive form of a gerund is being + past participle.

Being asked to settle an argument can be awkward.

Auxiliary Verbs after But and And

When an addition is made to a statement with but or and, often the main verb is not repeated. Instead, it is replaced with an auxiliary verb.

but + subject + auxiliary

My sister isn't good at remembering special occasions, but my mother is.

John doesn't get frustrated easily, but Sam does.

and + subject + auxiliary + too (for positive sentences) or either (for negative sentences)

He enjoys outdoor activities, and his son does too.

Circle the correct form in each sentence.

- Did you remember (to shut / shutting) the window before it started raining?
- He stopped (to play / playing) football after he hurt his knee.
- 3. If you haven't been able to get an answer from the boss on the phone, maybe you should try (to send / sending) him an email.
- 4. He'll never forget (to score / scoring) that goal in the last minutes of the game.
- Don't forget (to email / emailing) me the photos.
- 6. We regret (to inform / informing) you that your application has been declined.

- B. Answer the questions about yourself.
- What is something you once did that you have stopped doing?

  I have stopped biting my nails when I'm nervous.
  - 1. What is something you remember doing often when you were a child?
  - 2. What is something you forgot to do recently?
  - 3. What is something you tried to do, but were not able to do?
  - 4. What is something you will never forget doing?
  - 5. What is something you try to remember to do each day?
  - 6. What is something you regret doing?
- C. Rewrite each sentence as a passive sentence.
- The job candidate didn't expect the human resource manager to criticize him so harshly.

  The job candidate didn't expect to be criticized so harshly.
  - 1. You need to take out the trash.
  - 2. He expects the manager to promote him soon.
  - 3. I remember my father reading to me when I was a child.
  - He waited for his boss to invite him to sit down.
  - 5. The mechanic needs to repair the car.
  - 6. Many celebrities enjoy having photographers take their picture.
- D. Complete each sentence with names of classmates and the appropriate auxiliary verb. When appropriate, use too or either after the auxiliary verb.
- Don often volunteers in class, and Alex does too.

  1. _____lives close to school, but______
  - 2. _____was in school yesterday, and ______.
  - 3. _____is wearing blue today, but ______
- 4. _____never comes to class late, and _____
- E. Read about Abdullah and Faris. Then describe the similarities and differences between Abdullah and Faris, using auxiliary verbs after but or and.
- Paris plays football, and Abdullah does too.

FARIS

Likes: comedy shows, Indian food, football, relaxing on the beach Dislikes: coffee, video games, waking up early, hiking

ABDULLAH

I don't know why Google Maps can't find Lakeside Drive. Fahd:

I think we'd better stop and ask directions.

Faisal: Don't worry. I'm sure I can find it. Let's try going this way.

Fahd: I think we're lost. Look. There's a gas station. Let's pull over and ask someone.

Faisal: Oh, all right. Attendant: You look lost.

Fahd: You can say that again. We're looking for Lakeside Drive.

I know this town like the back of my hand, and I can tell you that there's no street by that Attendant:

name. Do you mean Riverside Drive?

Faisal: Oh, yeah! That must be it. I just got the street name wrong.

Fahd: Can you tell us how to get there?

It's not far. It's just over on the other side of town. You need to turn left out of here. Then Attendant:

> go straight for a couple of miles. Keep going until you see an ice-cream shop. If you pass Town Hall, you've gone too far. Take the first left after the ice-cream shop and you'll be on Riverside Drive.

Faisal & Fahd: Thanks!

I guess it's a good thing I suggested we stop for directions. We would have been driving in Fahd:

circles for ages.

Don't make a big deal about it. I'm sure I would have figured it out eventually. Faisal:

Real Talk

You can say that again. = I agree with you completely. know (something) like the back of my hand = know something very well over = used to emphasize location for ages = for a very long time make a big deal about = make something small seem very important

Your Turn

Role-play with a partner. Ask your partner how to get to his or her home (or some other destination) from school. Your partner will give you directions. Use phrases from the box.

About the Conversation

- How do Faisal and Fahd react differently to being lost?
- 2. Why couldn't they find the street they were looking for?
- How does each of them feel about having stopped to get directions?

Listening 🔊

Listen to the morning news show discussion about the different strategies used by new and experienced drivers. Then answer true or false. If the sentence is false, rewrite it with the correct information.

1	Kevin Shields is the host of the show.
2	The book they are discussing was written a long time ago.
3	New and experienced drivers use different driving strategies.
4	Experienced drivers seem to be better able to deal with difficult situations.
5	Older drivers' reflexes are as fast as younger drivers' reflexes.
6	New drivers tend to get more stressed and frightened when dealing with a dangerous situation.
7	Experienced drivers normally have lower insurance premiums than new drivers.

6 Pronunciation

Tag questions are short questions added to the ends of sentences. If the tag question uses rising intonation, the speaker isn't sure of the statement and is looking for information. If the tag question uses falling intonation, the speaker is sure of the statement and is expecting confirmation.

Listen and repeat. Then check whether the sentence has rising or falling intonation.

		Rising Intonation	Falling Intonation
1.	So this means that experienced drivers have better reflexes, doesn't it?
2.	So then it seems neither group has a total advantage in such cases, do they	? 🗆
3.	That's true, isn't it?
4.	That's a bit unfair for new drivers, isn't it?
5.	So each group is the better driver in their own way, aren't they?

In what ways do you think men and women communicate differently?

Do Men and Women Speak the Same Language?

The difference in the ways that men and women communicate has been the subject of countless books, magazine articles, talk show discussions, and jokes. These differences can sometimes make men and women seem mysterious to each other, and can occasionally make communication difficult and confusing. People often jokingly say that men and women are from different planets or that they are different species. But just what are these communication differences and what is their cause?

One basic reason men and women have such different ways of communicating is that they see the purpose of communication differently. Research shows that women use communication as a way of growing closer to people and establishing intimate relationships. Women tend to use language to share thoughts and feelings, and to be supportive. Meanwhile, men tend to see the goal of communication as accomplishing a task. Men most often use language to persuade, argue, convey facts, and demonstrate knowledge.

Although men do not tend to use communication to achieve closeness, they have their own way of bonding. In one study, 75 percent of the men surveyed said that their most meaningful experiences with friends came not through talking, but through shared activities. In a related study, researchers found that fathers tend to show affection to sons by helping them with tasks and challenges. Javier Morales's experiences certainly support this idea. Says Morales, "My dad and I are really close, but I wouldn't say we talk very much. We spend a lot of time together doing things. We spent all of last Saturday repairing my car, and this week we're going hiking together. My dad and I have a deep bond. Just because we're not talking doesn't mean we're not sharing important time together."

The content of what males and females talk about tends to be different as well. Researcher Deborah Tannen has found that while feminine talk tends to focus on feelings, relationships, and people, masculine talk tends to focus on sports, the economy, and facts.

Women talk to explore problems, but men do not. Instead, men talk to fix problems. This can sometimes cause problems in communication. Janet West, a freshman in college, remembers encountering this issue recently. "I told my brother Derek about a problem I was having with my studies. He immediately came up with possible solutions to the problem. Being told how to fix the problem was kind of frustrating because it wasn't what I was looking for. I asked him to stop trying to fix the problem and try talking with me about it instead. He seemed completely confused and said, "Why bother talking about a problem unless you're trying to find a solution to it?"

Another way in which men and women differ is in the way they listen. Research has shown that men tend to place all of their attention on one thing at a time, but women do not. Instead, women commonly divide their attention between a number of things at once and make connections between these different things. Since this comes so easily to women, they are sometimes frustrated when men struggle to do this. For example, a common complaint among women is that when a man is watching television, he often doesn't hear a question asked by the person sitting right beside him. Sakura Kumi has witnessed this many times in her house. Sakura says, "My mother used to get so frustrated trying to get my father's attention while he was watching TV, and I did too. So she got into the habit of standing in front of the TV and saying, 'Hiroshi, I'm about to ask you a question.' It's become sort of a family joke."

Research has shown that these communication differences can be partially explained by the different ways in which the male and female brains are structured and wired. For example, the left side of the brain, where logic and literal thinking are processed, tends to be stronger in men. Meanwhile, women tend to think with the right side, which is where comprehension is processed. The female brain also has more connections between the right and left sides, so their thought process is likely to be more complex.

Research has also shown that the different ways that boys and girls are raised has a significant impact on how they communicate. Girls are raised to recognize and be sensitive to the feelings of others. On the other hand, boys are taught to be more direct and goal-oriented. Being raised in such different ways is bound to create two different styles of communication.

While the differences in the way men and women communicate can sometimes cause confusion, these differences are also what help maintain a balance in communication. It ensures that a variety of topics and viewpoints are explored, feelings are expressed, and problems are discussed and solved. This balance is what makes communication so rich and interesting.

Verbal and non-verbal communication

When people talk about communication, the first thing that comes to mind is words or language. Language is our primary means of communication as human beings, which sets us apart from other species. However, as studies have shown, it is not the only means of communication.

Think about a photograph taken in the center of a town. It provides information about the buildings, stores and services, people and cars, plants, and all kinds of details if you choose to take the time to look at it more carefully. Now try describing the picture and everything you have identified in it to your friend or write about it. How long do you think it's going to take you? Certainly a lot longer than it takes a photo to convey the same amount of information.

Suppose that you have just acquired the latest electronic gadget. Would you choose to tell your friend about it or show it to him or her? Usually, we choose to do the latter, i.e. show it to somebody and point out all the new, amazing features. In other words, pictures and objects can "speak for themselves" more efficiently and effectively than we can through verbal language.

However, there are situations where a different type of interaction is required, when, for example, you run into somebody you have not seen for some time. You probably want to talk about everything that has happened, ask him/ her questions, and talk about people you know, and so on. This is definitely a case that requires verbal language.

On a partly different note, you see a friend you have not seen for some time at a distance, e.g. different escalators at the airport leading to different lounges. You have both checked through security and cannot go back; and you certainly don't want to start shouting across the airport building. You want to get his/her cell phone number.

You probably resort to gesturing by holding your hand next to your ear and pretending to talk; you point to the "phone," point to your friend and use a hand gesture to signal "What?" pointing back to the imaginary phone. Your friend signals each number by holding up the appropriate number of fingers.

In other words, although language is important and allows us to communicate facts, feelings, thoughts, experiences, and practically everything and anything that we are interested in, it is not the only way we communicate with each other. As studies have shown, about 60 percent of human communication is carried out through non-verbal means, e.g. facial expression, gestures, or illustration. Maybe we should keep this in mind when we are "at a loss for words": our eyes and overall expression can convey what we cannot express through words.

Writing Corner

When you write a comparative/contrastive essay:

- · consider the different sides of the issue.
- develop a list of similarities and differences.
- establish your basis for comparison.
- · create a thesis for their relative importance, e.g. similarities outweigh differences.
- structure your essay using an alternating or a block structure:
  - a. an alternating structure involves a point by point discussion and can be quite systematic and analytical.
  - b. a block method allows you to discuss each aspect or topic in distinct blocks and then conclude.

Before Reading

- 1. Do you think it is easy for people to make real friends online? Why? Why not?
- 2. Do you text or call people you know? What kind of language do you use in each case?

The impact of a changing world on human language and communication

Recent research on the impact of online communication across cultures in Europe has revealed some very interesting findings.

Although, social networking and online communication has become the norm among young people nowadays, the formation of lasting friendships among peers appears to require face-to-face communication.

The project involved communication with partner schools in different countries. According to project participants, online communication and information exchange was effective for a period of time and undoubtedly provided the input and information needed. However, when it came to the formation of long-term friendships, they strongly felt that face-to-face communication was a key requirement; as was mobility, in other words travel to different countries.

The way one of the participants put it, "It's different to find out about each other's culture through reading, talking about it and exchanging pictures or videos, and different to actually experience it in person. It's the day-to-day things that tell you more about people and their mindset." These conclusions were reached after participants visited the countries where partner schools were located. As funding was limited, not all project participants were able to join.

All interviewees appreciated the accessible and affordable opportunities offered through technology and online communication but stressed the need for communication beyond cyberspace. Interestingly, young people nowadays take cyberspace for granted and consider more conventional, real world experiences to be more creative and rewarding.

Overall, the conclusion reached pointed out that although technology "connects" people, lasting friendships require face-to-face contact to make initial connections more meaningful. This was further confirmed by the diminishing interest and involvement of the participants that had not been able to travel.

As expected, English was used as the common medium of communication. Project participants admitted to having been intimidated and reluctant to initiate conversation due to their language "inadequacies." They soon found out that none of their peers from other countries were perfect either, but were only too willing to utilize all available resources to speak. So they quickly revised their views on language competence and stopped being over-concerned with potential "errors."

The task at hand required them to communicate with people that they had previously communicated with through email and video conferencing, under more controlled circumstances with teacher support, and time to check and edit their language. Face-to-face communication had to be spontaneous and genuine, so they were required to do their best, to listen, understand, and ask for clarification or repetition, use gestures or point to things if they could not recall words and so on. More importantly, their peers from other countries routinely resorted to the same strategies in conversation.

On occasion, when lost for words, their interlocutors would say: "text me"; this they could do without difficulty, using abbreviated language. They would then use the text message, as a basis to clarify meaning. Abbreviated language, this special kind of electronic shorthand, which often confuses older adults, is accessible to young people. In fact, it is the electronic variety of English as an international medium, and an identifying marker of generations that are natives to technology.

The context and means of communication do have an immediate impact on the type of language used. The need for speedy and highly economical messaging has fostered the development and evolution of "texting" language. Abbreviated language is regarded as a type of slang, categorizing it as a substandard variety of language. On the other hand, some analysts attest to the fact that it indicates high intelligence and speed of processing that should not be overlooked.

According to Professor Crystal, "text-speak", the combination of vowel-free abbreviations and acronyms, "has definitely been overhyped" and does not qualify as a new language.

When these issues were addressed in a focus group with high school students who had participated in the multicultural project, they were ready with clear and highly articulate answers. They agreed that context and circumstances impose the need for changes in communication and therefore the type of language used. They were pleased to be able to use abbreviated language in texting and messaging effectively and efficiently. However, they pointed out that they would very much like to develop their language and communication skills further in order to be able to operate in a different range of contexts. As one of the interviewees put it, "It wouldn't be a good idea to use abbreviated language in term papers when I get to university!"

Tools for Writing: Run-on Sentences

A run-on sentence is a sentence with two or more independent clauses that are incorrectly placed together without any punctuation or a coordinating conjunction.

Incorrect: You look in the cafeteria I'll look in the auditorium.

Run-on sentences can be avoided by using a period to separate the clauses into two separate sentences, or by adding a coordinating conjunction after a comma.

Correct: You look in the cafeteria. I'll look in the auditorium.

Correct: You look in the cafeteria, and I'll look in the auditorium.

Correct each run-on sentence in two different ways.

- The weather has been great it has been warm.
- •2. She can't make it she has other plans.
- He's tired he doesn't want to stay out late.
- 4. I understood the lesson I can help you.

Writing Prompt

Write an essay about tales involving animals in your culture. Include grammar points from Units 4-6.

Write Your Essay

- 1. Think about the following questions: Where did the tale originate? What is the significance of the tale? Is there a moral?
- Use a chart to organize your ideas. In the first column, write two or three tales about animals that you are interested in learning more about. Research these tales. Then write notes about the origin of each in the second column. Use these notes when you write your essay.
   Animal Tale
   Origin of the Tale
- 3. Write an outline for your essay, and then write a draft.
- Have a partner read and comment on your draft. Use your partner's comments and suggestions to revise your essay.

Developing Your Writing: Outlining an Essay

Writers use outlines to help them organize their thoughts before they begin writing. Outlines show the order in which topics will be introduced. They also include categories and subcategories to show the relationship between the different parts of the essay. Outlines are usually arranged from general points to more specific points. Outlines are also usually arranged by a system of numbers and letters, as in the example below.

- I. Introduction
  - A. There are numerous tales about animals in American culture.
  - B. These tales often teach an important lesson/moral.
- II. Body
  - A. First tale: The Tortoise and the Hare
    - 1. origins of the tale
    - 2. significance/moral of the tale
  - B. Second tale: The Lion and the Mouse
    - 1. origins of the tale
    - 2. significance/moral of the tale
- III. Conclusion

Animal Tales in American Culture
American culture has a rich assortment of animal tales that are passed on from generation to generation. Most of these tales originated centuries ago, but are still told to children today. Each tale has a moral—an important lesson to be learned

Read the article and interviews. Then answer true or false for each statement below.

Forming Business Partners in the Information Age

In the past, people used to meet their business partners in person at schools, universities, or work. Today, more and more people are turning to technology to find a good partner. We interviewed Adnan who met his partner Greg online.

Interviewer: So, exactly how did you go about finding Greg, your partner?

Adnan: We found each other's résumé on ePartner.

Interviewer: Can you tell us a little about ePartner. How does it work?

Adnan: It is based on the principle that people should be matched on key personality characteristics. Interviewer: So how do you know if your personality has the same key characteristics as someone else's?

Adnan: Well, everyone who signs up for ePartner has to take an online personality and aptitude test. After you finish the questionnaire, you get a list of likely matches.

Interviewer: And did you match? I mean did you hit it off with your partner right away?

Adnan: Actually, he didn't respond until a month later. But we've been partners for two years now, and we haven't had a single argument. We don't agree on everything, but we talk about things and always work out a solution that satisfies both of us.

Getting Funding for a New Business

In the past people used to save and start a business when they had enough cash. These days, people can put together a business plan, copyright it, and search for sponsors through the Internet.

Interviewer: So can you explain to us exactly what sponsoring is?

Greg: Sure. There are networks that accept proposals for new businesses and include them in their data bank. Your proposal can then be seen by potential sponsors or investors.

Interviewer: So, is it similar to social networking online.

Greg: I suppose you could say that. But this one is business networking, and the concept is closer to ePartnering in the sense that you eventually get to meet sponsors in person.

Interviewer: I see...and about how many sponsors can you meet and how quickly?

Greg: If you want, you can meet up to five or six potential sponsors a day.

Interviewer: Wow! Five sponsors a day! That's a lot. Interesting. Thanks for sharing with us, Greg, and good luck to you with your new business!

true In the past, people often met their business partners through common organizations.

______ Adnan and Greg share some common personality characteristics.

When you try to get funding online you don't get to meet sponsors.

4. You can meet up to six sponsors a day.

Unit 1

Read the text and answer the questions. Then complete the questionnaire at the end of the text with your own ideas.

Partnering with Friends and Relatives

Some people avoid setting up business partnerships with friends or family members. They feel that there cannot be clear boundaries between friendship and work, and things can go very wrong if you disagree with your friend and business partner.

Others feel that friends make the best business partners because there is a real relationship, as well as a sense of loyalty and willingness to share. According to yet another view, friends are great potential partners but not relatives.

I think it comes down to who the people are and what their qualities are. I also feel that self-confidence is invariably a determining factor. People who are aware of their strengths and weaknesses and are confident about their abilities and potential make good business partners. On the other hand, people who are meek and always take a back seat sometimes tend to be unpredictable and might take advantage of their partner when given a chance. But even then, you cannot really say that this is always the case. So it all depends on the individual.

An aspect of friendship that might affect a working relationship has to do with the fact that friends tend to do what they like rather than what they can do best; they feel that they have license to indulge and do exactly that, because they are working with friends. This can lead to bad and destructive business decisions. So it's advisable to discuss responsibilities beforehand, agree on details, and put everything down on paper.

One thing is certain; if you plan to be the leader of the business, what you need to find out is if your friends respect you as much as you respect them.

Here are some questions you could ask yourself before setting up a partnership:

- A. Does my friend really listen to me when I talk?
- B. When I have a good idea, does my friend reject it or does he/she contribute to its development?
- C. Can I confide in my friend and trust him/her not to tell others our business ideas.
- D. Does my friend come to me for advice?
- E. Has my friend been by my side when I've needed help or support?
- F. Has my friend accepted my help and support when it was offered?
- _____

- 1. Why are some people against setting up partnerships with friends and relatives?
- 2. Why are friends considered potentially good business partners?
- 3. What qualities are important in a working relationship according to the writer?
- 4. What should you do if you are heading the business?
- 5. Now, read the text again and add your own questions from G to J.

Study the picture and imagine what it might be like to live in a place like this compared with other places. Make some notes under each of the headings below. Then write sentences about the picture using other, others, another, or each other.

Read the interview with two company partners. Circle the correct form.

Presenter: As more and more people (1. set up / are setting up) businesses together these days, we interviewed two friends who (2. are trying / try) to make a go of it. We (3. are waiting / wait) for our first pair to arrive now. Ah! There (4. are they / they are)! Let's welcome Ali and Faisal... So tell us about your experience of working together. You (5. are / are being) web designers, aren't you?

How (6. things go / are things going)? (7. Is the business / The business is) working out as planned?

Ali: Well, it (8. is / is being) actually easier than we thought it might be. First of all, let me explain, we (9. have / are having) a software program that (10. assists / is assisting) our customers to build their own websites. Let me show you an example on the screen...

Here (11. you go / are going)! This (12. is / is being) our website.

Presenter: Wow! The site certainly (13. seems / is seeming) fantastic! (14. Are you believing

/ Do you believe) that's all due to your partnership?

Faisal: Oh, yes. It really (15. helps / is helping) to have two pairs of eyes on the screen, and two pairs of hands to share the load.

Presenter: What about the downsides? Any problems, so far?

Ali: To be frank, nothing serious. Naturally, we (16. have / are having) our differences of opinion occasionally. That's normal when two people (17. spend / spending) so much time together.

Presenter: Anything specific?

Faisal: The only thing that bugs me is that Ali (18. is constantly interrupting / constantly interrupts) me while I (19. am speaking / speak) with clients online.

Ali: And our chatline (20. opens / is opening) at 8 a.m., but Faisal never (21. arrives / is arriving) at work on time.

Presenter: So in general, (22. do you have / are you having) any advice for others who (23. are thinking / think) about starting a joint venture?

Faisal: Sure. It (24. appears / is appearing) to be an easy solution, but it (25. requires / is requiring) a great deal of trust and understanding.

Ali: Right! But if you've got that, it (26. is / is being) definitely better than going it alone.

H READING

Three students from different parts of the world were asked about their goals and dreams. Read about each student. Then complete the chart below.

Ali, 17, Saudi Arabia

My goal is to go to the United States to study to become a doctor. I am in my third year of high school in Jeddah right now. I study very hard so that I can get excellent grades in school. If I want to study in the U.S., I will need to speak English. I study English at school, and while I'm at home I read books and watch documentaries in English, too. I am going to apply for a scholarship program so that I can go to a university in the U.S. for a bachelor's degree. While I'm studying in the U.S., I will visit different medical schools to meet some of the professors. I will need to get top grades so that I can get accepted into a program. After I get my degree, I can become a medical doctor in orthopedics.

Yusef, 15, Somalia

My dream is to play on the Somali National Basketball Team. Right now I am the best basketball player in my school. We don't have a lot of money, so the court is just made of dirt. I'm used to playing on the dirt court with no shoes. I have a job watching a man's sheep for him. I save all the money I make. When I have enough, I will buy a pair of basketball shoes. Then I will travel to Mogadishu, the capital of Somalia. I will try out for a traveling team called the Somali Youth Basketball League. If I play well on that team, I can get a scholarship to play basketball at a university. This will hopefully lead to a position on the national basketball team.

Eun, 13, Korea

My goal is to become a world-famous football player. I have been playing football since I was three years old. I used to watch my older brothers play in the street with their friends, and then I would try to imitate them with my small plastic ball. Now I have training sessions three times a week. I am fortunate to have one of the best football coaches in Seoul as my instructor. I practice and run for at least three hours every day. My friends think I'm crazy, but I tell them this is the only way to become world-famous. I also play basketball with my cousin. When I am 14, I will try to join the Seoul Junior Football League. This will help me improve my skills and get a scholarship to the National Sports Academy. After that, I will try out for the national football team and participate in international championship games.

Write each student's goal and the steps the student will take to achieve that goal.

Extraordinary Visions of the Future

One of the famous people in history who had a great vision of the future was Leonardo da Vinci. Leonardo described and sketched ideas for many modern inventions hundreds of years ahead of their time. Very few of these were ever built and tested during his lifetime. Several of his notes suggest that he wished to organize and publish his ideas; unfortunately, he died before he could achieve this important goal. After his death, many of his notebooks were hidden or lost, although there are still records of some of his most extraordinary inventions. Here are four examples:

Parachutes for skydiving

The first reported successful parachute jump was made from the top of a tower in France in 1783. Leonardo da Vinci had sketched a design for a parachute in 1485. He included notes around his sketch about the size requirements of a parachute that would allow a person to fall safely from a great height.

Helicopter

The first helicopter that could carry a person was designed and flown by Paul Cornu in 1907. Leonardo da Vinci was fascinated by flying machines. One of the sketches of his flying machines resembles a helicopter in its operating principles. It has a rotating airscrew. According to Leonardo's notes, this helicopter was meant to fly rapidly by unwinding a wound-up string attached to the airscrew.

Aircraft landing gear

The first airplane with retractable landing gear was built in 1933. Landing gear enables the plane to move faster, avoiding resistance from the flow of air around the plane. Leonardo da Vinci had imagined the need for retractable landing gear more than five hundred years ago. A couple of his sketches of flying machines show this equipment.

Scuba diving equipment

Jacques-Yves Cousteau and Émile Gagnan invented the compressed air tank in 1943. Centuries before, Leonardo had made some sketches which show men in diving suits with long hoses coming out of them and leading to the surface. There is also one sketch that looks as if one of the divers has something like a gas tank attached to his chest.

T true	Leonardo da Vinci lived about 500 years ago.
1	Leonardo published a book with his ideas for inventions.
2	. Some of Leonardo's notebooks were lost.
3	. The first parachute was used in Italy.
4	Leonardo flew the first helicopter.
5	. The first airplane landing gear was used in 1907.
6,	. The compressed air tank is used in scuba diving.

Homework - What is it for?

Then again, there were students who obviously had lots of help from parents or teachers at home and always brought their immaculately written homework but could not perform in class. They often had similar grades to the student I mentioned earlier.

Thinking back, I realize that it all had to do with the amount of homework, and the way it was set by the teacher. When the teacher took the time to explain what we had to do and even allowed us to produce examples and ask questions, I was more willing to do it when I went home. When, on the other hand, homework was set in a hurry, I went home feeling confused, not certain about what was required, dreaming up a number of excuses to avoid doing it.

Finally, homework does not need to be tedious. It can be interesting and challenging and foster learning as much or as little as any activity in and out of class. It is the learning and content that needs to be focused on over and beyond the amount and presentation. At least that's what I think...

I can appreciate the fact that homework needs to be set to help learners consolidate what they have done in class, but is it more important than anything else that someone does as a student? I quickly realized that if I wanted to be on good terms with teachers, I had to do my homework and stuck to that throughout my school years. However, I couldn't help thinking about the difference it made when homework was set in a way that encouraged us to think, search and find information, or express ourselves in a creative manner. I also remembered how appreciative we all were when homework did not require endless pages of writing for no obvious reason.

I have often wondered about the purpose of homework while I was at school. I sometimes felt that homework was set to keep us busy or keep us in line. I also thought it was a kind of test or form of punishment. Then again, there were times that I enjoyed it!

A lot of people think that students who do their homework learn and the rest don't. I remember a classmate of mine who was a really fast learner and was always interested in finding out about things, but she was dismal with homework. She would do part of it, or none at all, or do the wrong thing. As a result, her marks did not reflect her real abilities, but instead showed her inability to do homework.

The World of Manga

Manga are comics that were created in Japan in the late 19th century. Japanese people use the word to refer to cartoons, comics, or animation. Among English speakers, however, it is used to refer to Japanese comics along with the word anime, for animated cartoons. The comics cover a wide range of genres such as action, adventure, science fiction, mystery, thrillers, drama, sports and games, and so on. They are normally printed in black and white, although some are printed in full color. Many manga stories are translated into other languages, mainly English.

The stories are often published in large manga magazines. Each story is presented in a single episode that continues in the next issue. Successful stories may also be republished in hardback or paperback books. Popular manga series are sometimes animated after the story has been completed or as it develops in single episodes. Some manga comics are based on animated or live-action films.

Modern manga follows two broad trends. One trend focuses on events between 1945 and 1952 and incorporates cultural influences from American cartoons, TV films, images, and themes. The other trend stresses Japanese culture and art. Manga artists such as Osamu Tezuka created heroes that became popular in Japan and elsewhere in the world around the same period. Tezuka created Astro Boy, who is still a very popular, well-known character. The science fiction series is set in a futuristic world where robots co-exist with humans. Tezuka's visually dynamic style simulated slow and fast motion as well as details along the lines of cinematography.

The influence of manga on international comics has grown considerably over the last three decades. Manga has become an important part of the Japanese publishing industry and gained a significant readership in the U.S., Canada, Europe, and the Middle East. Artistic styles and characters of both genders have evolved to satisfy a wider range of genres, including realistic representations of life or fiction.

Global Marketing Mishaps

Brand names and slogans are extremely compact communication tools. They represent a great deal of information, and evoke memories, feelings, and expectations, which in turn influence buyers' decisions. A brand name is the heart of any product, and a slogan creates a direct and perhaps unconscious association with a product. This is why companies have to be very careful about the brand names and slogans they choose for their products, and extra careful when these products are offered in the international market.

A name for a product can be perfect in one language and catastrophic in another. There are many stories about advertising and marketing blunders involving words that just did not translate or had a different meaning. For example, General Motors had to rename its car, the Chevy Nova, in Spanish-speaking countries because Nova can be understood as no va which means "It doesn't go." No automobile company would ever want that!

But English translation mistakes aren't limited to Spain and Latin America. When Pepsi translated their slogan "Come alive with the Pepsi generation" into Chinese, it was incorrectly translated as "Pepsi brings your ancestors back from the dead." And Kentucky Fried Chicken's slogan "Finger-Lickin' Good" was translated into Chinese as "Eat Your Fingers Off."

These stories serve as cautionary tales for advertising students and/or professionals. It's always advisable to check what your slogan or brand name means and implies in the countries where the product will be sold, or you could end up making your brand a laughing stock.

Answer true or false. 1. _____ Brand names and slogans translate easily from one language to another. 2. _____ Brand names and slogans can influence buyers' decisions. 3. _____ Nova was a good name for a car in Spanish. 4. _____ There have been blunders in advertising when translating English into Chinese as well as Spanish. 5. _____ It pays to do research when translating advertising slogans from one language to another. Write definitions for these words and phrases from the text. 6. evoke: 7. catastrophic: 8. blunders: ______ 9. cautionary tales: ______ 10. a laughing stock: ______

The Environmental Divide

Concern for the environment has been a controversial issue from the start. When companies and industries were monitored and assessed to determine the amount of waste that they disposed of and the impact of that waste on the environment three decades ago, there were a lot of skeptics who regarded it as a ploy to promote a new industry, that of waste management.

In actual fact, a number of organizations with foresight jumped in to secure a piece of the waste management market. Bonuses and tax deductions were offered as an incentive for industries to upgrade their production procedures and equipment, in favor of environmentally friendly alternatives or at least alternatives that reduced harm to the environment.

Scientists had been setting out alarms and advising people to reduce the levels of waste accumulated on Earth as they could foresee future consequences. Yet, few responded.

Environmentalists attempted to prevent some of the destruction of natural habitat that would impact the lives of humans and other living organisms on Earth, but they were initially greeted with suspicion and on occasion with outright contempt.

The controversy continues uninterrupted. Even today, with all the belated discussions and summits to control global warming, people are divided on the issue. There are those that attribute most environmental changes to the natural evolutionary process of our planet and quote the ice age or the extinction of the dinosaurs as evidence of the changes that take place irrespective of humans and human intervention.

At the other end, stand those who regard Earth as their home and would like to maintain it as best they can by removing all toxic and destructive factors. They are the ones who refer to the destruction of the rain forests as one of the major crimes committed and substantiate it convincingly through the climatic changes, the depletion of oxygen, and holes in the ozone layer.

To this day, there does not seem to be a uniform standpoint on the issue despite attempts by international organizations to mobilize countries and individuals in a uniform effort to preserve the environment.

1.	What are the two opposing views on the environment?
2.	Who are these views represented by?
3.	What is one of the main arguments used by those opposed to the environmentalist view?
4.	What do environmentalists juxtapose as an argument?

5. What is your view on this issue? Please give reasons.
