Progress towards the future

All successful changes start with a vision. Successful visions are based on strong pillars. The first pillar of our vision is our status as the heart of the Arab and Islamic world. We recognize that Allah the Almighty has given our country a gift more precious than oil. Saudi Arabia is the Land of the Two Holy Mosques, the most sacred sites on earth and the direction of the Kaaba (Qibla) to which more than a billion Muslims turn at prayer. We will expand and further develop our country to ensure that that Muslims from around the world can visit the Holy Sites. The second pillar of our vision is our determination to become a center for global business. We will develop the economy to encourage investment from other countries and international businesses. The third pillar is transforming our unique geographical location into a global hub connecting three continents, Asia, Europe and Africa. We will use our geographical position to improve trade and transport to and from our country. Although our country is rich in its natural resources, our real wealth lies in the ambition of our people and the potential of our younger generation. They are our nation's pride and the architects of our future. We will support young people in finding jobs and training. Our vision is built around three themes: A vibrant society, a thriving economy and an ambitious nation.

Read the following passage about Ellis Island in New York.

Between 1892 and 1954, most people who came to live in the United States passed through Ellis Island. During that time, more than 12 million immigrants had this experience. Sometimes more than 10,000 people would go through Ellis Island in a single day. Most of these newcomers came from Europe and almost all of them came across the Atlantic Ocean by steamship. The trip was very difficult. The food was terrible, the ships were usually crowded and dirty, and the weather was usually bad so a lot of people got sick.

After the immigrants got off the ship at Ellis Island, they first had to pass a medical test. Sometimes they would wait for hours to see a doctor. If they were sick, they were usually sent back home. Over 250,000 people were sent home between the years 1892 and 1954. Some of those refused entry were young children, so one or both parents would have to go back with them. For these people, it meant their dream of living in the United States was over. Today Ellis Island is a museum.

Read the sentences about Ellis Island. Write (T) for True or (F) for False.

1. _____ Ellis Island is in California.

2. _____ Immigrants came to Ellis Island and then had to pass a medical test.

3. _____ Today Ellis Island is a museum.

4. _____ For most immigrants, the trip across the Atlantic was difficult.

5. _____ Many people came to Ellis Island from Europe.

6. _____ The ships were clean and didn't have many people on them.

7. _____ The food on the ships was great.

8. _____ Most of these newcomers came across the Atlantic Ocean by airplane.

II- Reading Comprehension

A) Read the following passage:

One of the things I like best about school is my art class. We have a great teacher named Mrs. Hilbert. She is a wonderful artist. I love to watch her draw and paint. She taught us how to mix paint to make just the right colors for our paintings. She plays good music while we draw and paint. We draw and paint almost everyday in class. Some days we look at pictures of other artists. It is interesting to do this. It helps me to think of things that I want to paint or draw. We have an art exhibit in May this year. Our works will be in one of the banks in our town. We are inviting people from the community to our exhibit. Our parents are invited to go with us. I have three paintings I am working on now. I hope one of them will be chosen to be in the exhibit. I like having a goal to work towards.

She taught us how to mix paint to make just the right colors for our paintings. She plays good music while we draw and paint. We draw and paint almost everyday in class. Some days we look at pictures of other artists. It is interesting to do this. It helps me to think of things that I want to paint or draw. We have an art exhibit in May this year. Our works will be in one of the banks in our town. We are inviting people from the community to our exhibit. Our parents are invited to go with us. I have three paintings I am working on now. I hope one of them will be chosen to be in the exhibit. I like having a goal to work towards.

Today, hypermarkets are found in almost every city in the world. Panda, AlOthaim, Carrefour and LuLu are one of the famous hyper markets in Saudi Arabia. Euromarche was the first hypermarket opened in Saudi Arabia in 1981.
A hypermarket is different from mini markets or other shops.

People prefer shopping in hypermarket because it is convenient, international and one-stop-shopping. Besides, there are special offers that most customers like. In hypermarkets, goods are placed on open shelves. The customers help themselves to choose what they want and put them in the shopping basket, then take them to the check–out counter. There are usually special shelves in hyper markets for inexpensive items just in front of the check – out counter: such as chocolate, sweets, gum and so on.

When customers reach the check – out counter, they can pay cash or with a bank card. Customers feel glad because their shopping is finished. To give comfort to customers, hypermarkets provide parking areas and stay open until very late at night. Nowadays, many of the hypermarkets become huge shopping centers and malls.

Read the following passage then answer the questions 6

A VISION OF THE FUTURE

The French writer Jules Verne wrote several books in the late 1800s. In them, he wrote about the future. He asked, "What will life be like at the end of the 20th century-one hundred years from now?" In one of his adventure novels (From the Earth to the Moon), his characters traveled to the moon in a rocket. In another novel (20,000 Leagues Under the Sea), his characters dove through the depths of the ocean in a submarine in the shape of a whale. In a novel titled Paris in the Twentieth Century, Verne described a city with skyscrapers of glass and steel, high-speed trains, gas-powered automobiles, and a global communications network. Space rockets and submarines and other things in his novels didn't exist in Verne's time, but many of the inventions that Verne imagined became reality by the end of the 1900s.

Read this passage and then answer the questions below:

In the last seventy-five years, air travel has become the important means of long distance transportation around the world. The airplane was adopted for passenger service in Europe in 1919. Later in 1927, people in the United States began to travel by air. On 14 March 1947 in Saudi Arabia, a new airline started with a fleet of five, 24-seat Douglas DC-3s. On those days, a DC-3 took off from Jeddah for Riyadh, Hofuf and Dhahran. The 1,200 km trip took four hours and a half . The same journey by land took about two months at that time. No matter where you travel by plane, the process is usually the same. You arrive at the airport at least two hours before the plane is scheduled to leave. Right away , you show your passport and ticket to the agent. Then he gives you a seat number and checks your suitcases. After that you go to the gate where you will board your plane. Finally, an agent announces that it is time to board your plane, and you are on your way.

A) Put (T) for true and (F) for false (a mark for each one)

1) You should arrive at the airport two hours before the plane is scheduled to leave. ( )

2) You show your passport and ticket to the agent. ( )
